EGYPT'S CANAL BOSS HURLS DARE AT WEST

Chief of Suez Waterway Hits 'Users' Plan

Decline Is Reported In Traffic Volume Through Waterway

CAIRO (AP)—The managing director of Egypt's newly nationalized Suez Canal Authority today voiced belligerence toward the Western proposed users' association.

Asked what would happen if the association tried to send ships through the canal with their own pilots, Director Mahmoud Yunis replied: "Let them try."

Traffic through the Suez fell to 31 ships today, the fourth day of operations exclusively by Egyptian and Greek pilots. The average was more than 40 before the walkout of about 100 foreign pilots Friday.

Meanwhile, in London, envoys from 18 nations began intensive talks on the Western Big Three's latest plans for dealing with Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the canal.

Forty-seven vessels, including some which failed in an effort to get through before the walkout deadline Friday midnight, made the trip through Saturday.

Both Sunday and Monday the count was 36.

A 24-SHIP convoy made the voyage from Suez to Port Said Monday in slightly under 12 hours—almost exactly on schedule.

Five of the 16 ships which left Port Said for Suez today moved directly into the canal from the Mediterranean after the regular 2 a. m. convoy had left.

The canal authority put pilots aboard the five as they approached the harbor and sent them along without the customary wait for the forming of a convoy.

Fifteen Russian ship masters in training for their pilot papers were on the canal today watching Egyptian pilots at work.

Mahmoud Yunis told a news conference the authority will be able to return to the three-convoys.

Sturgis Whites Boycotting School

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—Only 50 students, including eight Negroes, reported for classes today at Sturgis High School, where segregationists have promised to continue a boycott for "two weeks, two months, or however long it takes." Total enrollment is 275 students.

At Clay Consolidated School, attendance jumped to more than 300 and the principal, Mrs. Irene Powell, said she expected "things to return to normal by tomorrow."

Four Negroes were denied admittance to the school Monday on the strength of a Webster County School Board order which said they were enrolled illegally.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Coyt A. Stookey, our weatherman, accompanied by State Highway Patrolman Wayne Spengler, of the Wilmington post, went up into northern Indiana for the first day of hunting, to try their luck shooting "Mountain Jacks."

These frisky little members of the squirrel family, which are about one-third the size of the ordinary fox squirrel, are so abundant in northern Indiana that residents welcome anyone who will shoot the pests.

There is no law protecting the "mountain jacks" in Indiana, and hunters have no difficulty finding plenty of them, but do have some difficulty in bagging them, due to their friskiness and ability to get about like a flash.

Coyt killed two of the little squirrels and Spengler shot eight. The proved delicious eating, but were so small that they were hardly worth preparing for food, the two hunters reported.

There are comparatively few "Mountain Jacks" in Fayette County, and it is believed that the fox squirrels killed them off, as they did the hordes of gray squirrels which formerly inhabited Fayette County before the fox squirrels took over.

Nixon Piles Praise On Ike's Regime

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today the Eisenhower administration "deserves a vote of confidence" because it "got the United States out of one war, kept it out of others and offers the best hope for peace without surrender."

Nixon, in the first prepared speech of a 15,000-mile political barnstorming swing, hit hard on the "peace and prosperity" theme on which the Republican campaign is based this year.

Nixon's Indiana talk came after he had been given a gala sendoff at National Airport, Washington, where Eisenhower told him and other Republican campaigners that "I see no reason for our going to the public with anything but the truth."

"The great majority of the American people have enjoyed the best four years of their lives under the Eisenhower administration," Nixon declared here.

And harking back to the corruption in government issue of four years ago, Nixon said President Eisenhower "has cleaned up the mess he found, has not allowed another one to be made, and will continue to maintain standards that will make every American proud of his government."

The vice president, often accused by Democratic critics of using unfair campaign tactics, pledged that he would "set the record straight" whenever "our opponents misrepresent and distort the record and vilify the President."

NOWHERE IN prepared excerpts of his remarks did he mention Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson or Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who is seeking Nixon's job. He referred only to "our opponents" and "our critics."

Replying to Democratic contentions that the peace is precarious and that American prestige in the world is at an all-time low, he said:

"It probably is not surprising that those who defend an administration which refused to admit that the war in Korea was a war might not know the difference between war and peace. But the American people know the difference."

On the prosperity issue, he claimed "there are more jobs at higher wages, with greater take-home pay, for 66,600,000 American wage earners than at any time in history."

Until the Eisenhower administration took office in 1953, he said, the American people for 20 years had "never had real prosperity except in war or as a result of war."

He stressed he did not mean to say that "our national leaders got us into war so that we would have prosperity." But he said it does prove that "the New Deal and Fair Deal planners were never able to find the secret to the problem of creating prosperity during peacetime."

HE CONCEDED that some segments of the economy "have not shared as they should in this increasing prosperity," adding: "I can assure you that this administration is using every resource at our command to speed up the disposal of the huge surpluses of farm products which have been responsible for the delay our farmers have experienced in moving ahead with the rest of the economy."

Appearing in the politically important Midwestern Farm Belt, Nixon said Agriculture Department statistics show that farm prices "are finally on the way up and we intend to keep them on that path."

Tell People Only the Truth, Ike Advises GOP Spokesmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Republican campaigners today that they need only to tell the truth about his administration to win the election.

Eisenhower spoke at a sendoff breakfast for Vice President Nixon and other Republican leaders setting out on campaign tours.

The President told the GOP party members he does not claim perfection for his administration. But he said where it has failed it is not from lack of trying.

"I see no reason for our going to the public with anything but the truth," Eisenhower said. "Our record itself is sufficient. If it is made clear the people will support it."

"We do not need to indulge in the exaggerations of partisan politics. I do not claim perfection for this administration but where we have failed it was not from lack of trying."

SOUNDING a peace theme, Eisenhower said it is difficult to be as peaceful in the present day as Americans would like to be. He said that while we may be as peaceful as possible some one else may make an aggressive move that would disturb that peace.

"While it is not a secure peace that we have," he said, "there are many, many thousands of American mothers that are mighty thankful their sons are not involved in any shooting."

Eisenhower told the campaign workers that economic progress in the 3½ years of his administration is "attested by economic facts."

Turning to the farm problem, Eisenhower said farmers have taken out from under a system of high rigid price supports which he said was making their situation worse by piling up farm surpluses.

"The farmers have been given the right to hope that they are going to share equitably in our growing prosperity," he said.

The President said he does not believe Republicans should pay much attention to what the Democrats are saying. He said that in his own campaigning he has found himself so busy trying to put over his own message that he didn't even know what the opposition was saying.

"As long as we have a positive program and carry the truth about it to the people, let them do the yelling," he said.

New Kidnaping Evidence Found

California Woman's Belongings Uncovered

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Police said today they had found new evidence bearing out Mrs. George Latham's story that two women kidnaped her last week, stripped her, beat her and left her for dead beneath a pile of stones on the desert.

Mrs. Victoria Beatrice Winn, 57, and Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, pleaded innocent Monday when they were arraigned on charges of kidnaping, attempt to commit murder, robbery and burglary.

The maximum penalty under California's kidnaping law is death in the gas chamber.

Chief of Police A. E. Jansen said investigators found five corporate seals, several checks and specimens of Mrs. Latham's handwriting beneath a mattress in a house at Tijuana, Mexico, occupied by a cousin of Mrs. Whisenand.

The chief said the cousin reported Mrs. Whisenand left the articles there last Thursday.

MRS. LATHAM had related the corporate seals were taken from her by her kidnapers. She said they forced her to sign several checks.

Mrs. Latham is associated in several businesses with her husband, an investment broker.

Mrs. Winn, wife of a district manager of a utility company, formerly ran a building materials firm for the Lathams and was engaged in a court battle with them over its ownership.

Mrs. Whisenand, a divorcee, worked as a clerk for the U. S. Customs Service. Jansen said she had a good employment record but his investigators learned she is in debt and faces eviction.

Lancaster Jury Nearing End of Geer Case Probe

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor E. Raymond Morehart says he expects to finish presenting testimony today to the Fairfield County grand jury investigating the deaths of the two wives of Coroner Dr. Joseph A. Geer.

Morehart said he would summon a few more witnesses at today's hearing and that afterward he expected the jury to report its findings to Common Pleas Judge Harry Kilbinger.

Twenty-seven witnesses have appeared before the jury during three days of hearings.

Involved in the jury's investigation are the deaths of Jeanne Geer, the coroner's first wife who died Jan. 14, 1954, and Constance Geer, his second wife, who died last June 28 of what Morehart called drug intoxication.

An autopsy report on the ex-husband body of Jeanne Geer said her death resulted from a rheumatic heart condition.

$1½ Million Estate Left by Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—An estate of more than $1½ million was left by William H. Lamprecht II, retired head of the National Refining Co., papers filed in probate court disclosed Monday.

Lamprecht, who died Sept. 7, left no will. Under Ohio law the estate will be divided equally to his widow, a son and a daughter. Lamprecht was born in Cardington, lived in Cleveland 76 years.

Adlai Says HST Is Helping in Dem Campaign

But Ex-President's Remarks on Hiss Fail To Get any Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says he has no doubt former President Truman is making political hay for him.

But Stevenson, who won the Democratic presidential nomination despite Truman's contention he was a "defeatist," is refusing to go along with Truman's statement that Alger Hiss was not a Communist spy.

Stevenson also balks at the term "legal racketeers" which Truman leveled at the Eisenhower administration, but does say he and the former President see eye to eye in condemning a situation he believes Truman had in mind in using the term.

"No one could feel more strongly than I do about the giveaways of our natural resources by this (Eisenhower) administration, to which, as I understand it, President Truman was referring, and not to the personal honesty or integrity of President Eisenhower," Stevenson said Monday.

STEVENS said he has no doubt Truman will have far more requests to speak during the campaign "than he can possibly accommodate." And he said the Democratic National Committee will see to it that Truman "is used where and when it will serve the party's best interests."

In his comment on Alger Hiss, Stevenson said that in prodding him on Hiss such Republican leaders as Vice President Nixon and GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall are "back on the same old road they traveled" during the 1954 campaign.

Stevenson called on Eisenhower to say whether he approves "this sort of campaigning." There was no White House comment.

Hiss, a former State Department employee, served almost four years in federal prison after being convicted of perjury in denying he ever passed government secrets to a Soviet spy ring.

Truman replied "No" when asked in Milwaukee Sept. 3 whether he considered Hiss a Communist spy.

Nixon and Hall, among others, later challenged Stevenson to repudiate that Truman statement.

Asked whether he subscribed to the Truman view, Stevenson recalled he declared regarding Hiss during the 1952 campaign:

"AS I HAVE repeatedly said, I have never doubted the verdict of the jury which convicted him."

Monday Stevenson added: "Nothing has happened since then to change my views."

In Cincinnati, U. S. Sen. Albert Gore said Monday night that the earmark of the Eisenhower administration is what he called "a disinclination to decide."

The Tennessee senator told a Democratic party workers' meeting that "for lack of virile and aggressive leadership, the United States is falling behind."

He said, "neither a pleasant personality, knowledge of history nor political organization, however good, can be a substitute for the vigor and will to make decisions."

"Constant resort to 'further study' by commissions, committees and associated demonstrates a disinclination to decide."

Cincinnati Holding Woman Swindler

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police last night returned from Fremont with a Cleveland woman, Mrs. Sherry Caldwell, 29, charged by two women here with swindling them out of more than $3,000.

Investigators said she denied charges that she told them of finding a purse with a lot of money and would share it if they would put up "good faith" money. One woman said she lost $2,848, the other $1,000.

Police said Mrs. Caldwell was free on $5,000 bond on a swindling indictment in Fremont.

Madison Mills Store Robbery Nets $1,100; Two Men Hunted

Sheriff Orland Hays today was following meager clues as he started a hunt for two "fairly well-dressed" young men, wanted for questioning in the disappearance of about $600 in checks and $500 in cash from the D. H. Gordon Store at Madison Mills Monday afternoon. Sheriff Hays said Mrs. Gordon told him the two men drove up in front of the store and asked that 10 gallons of gasoline be put in their car.

While she was at the gasoline pump outside, the two sauntered into the store and asked: "Where is the pop case?"

When Mrs. Gordon told them "the mister will be here in just a minute," she told Sheriff Hays they replied "fill it up."

That last remark, the sheriff said he believes, was intended to keep Mrs. Gordon outside and give the men more time alone in the store.

WHEN THEY CAME out, she said, they handed her a $20 bill, but when she asked them about the pop they said "forget it" and drove rapidly west on the CCC Highway. Mrs. Gordon said she could not remember whether she gave the men change.

Soon after the car left, Mrs. Gordon told the sheriff her husband came to the store. No one else had been there, she added.

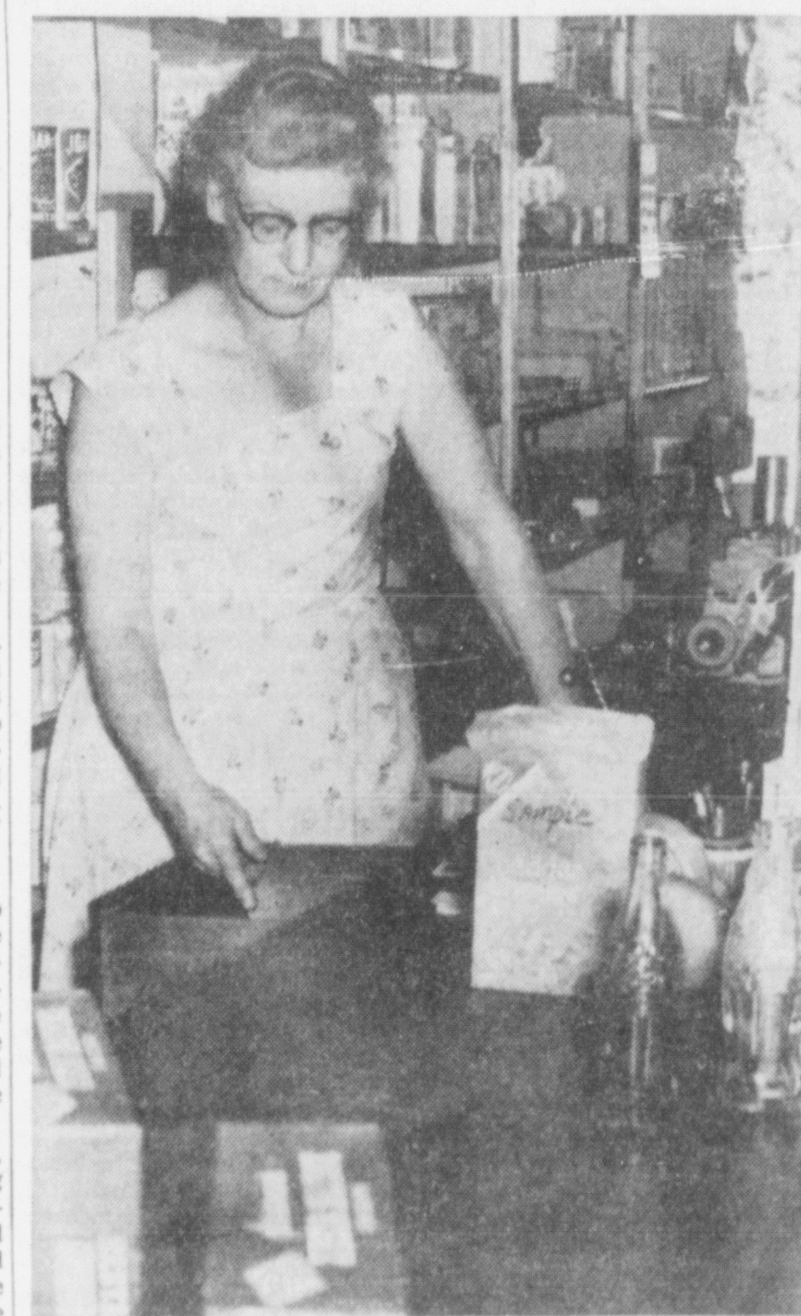

The checks and money were not missed, the sheriff said, until Gordon went into the store to get the money to pay Guy Briggs for the gasoline he had put in tanks for the pumps.

When Gordon went to the drawer where the money was kept the sheriff said he found it empty.

The sheriff's radio message following his preliminary investigation was picked up by his deputies and the State Highway Patrol. A short time later two hitchhikers from West Virginia were picked up by a Highway Patrol officer from the Piketon Station on Route 35 and placed in jail at Piketon.

They were questioned at length and released at 9 p. m. on Sheriff Hays' request.

Sheriff Hays said it is believed the car was from Kentucky—and that this was his best clue to the men wanted for questioning.

MRS. DON GORDON was alone in her husband's grocery store in Madison Mills when two men pulled up in front of the store, ostensibly to get gasoline. While she was pumping gas the men took $1,100 in cash and checks from the drawer to which she points to, underneath the cash register.

PUCO To Hear Phone Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today permitted Prosecutor William Ammer of Circleville, Pickaway County, to enter a case in which the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. is accused of charging rates out of line with the quality of service provided during a strike.

The Board of Trade of Yorkville, Tiltonville and Rayland, Jefferson County, made the original complaint, and Ammer said there is a similar situation in the Pickaway County area served by the telephone company.

The company said it is ready, willing and able to provide telephone service. It added it was forced to close its Tiltonville exchange for limited periods because that village was unable to provide reasonable police protection.

In asking that the complaint be dismissed, the company said it is adjusting rates where inadequate service was due to the strike or accidents or vandalism.

A hearing date has yet to be announced.

MEANWHILE, five Ohio Consolidated supervisors were hospitalized in Portsmouth today after an estimated 25 to 30 persons attacked them while they repaired cables.

The supervisors told police members of repair teams were attacked in Sciotoville and another group were attacked while repairing cables in a Portsmouth residential area.

Police were told the repairmen were attacked with clubs, hammers and ax handles. A ladder was pulled from under one victim who was working on a telephone pole, the supervisors said. The windows of repair trucks at both locations also were smashed.

10 Pacers Entered for 'Brown Jug'

DELAWARE (AP)—Ten three-year-old pacers, headed by favored Bachelor Hanover, were named today to start here Thursday in the 11th annual Little Brown Jug classic.

The race will be worth $52,666 for the twice-around jaunt over the half-mile oval.

If an entry takes the Jug in two straight heats, his owner will pocket a total of $29,602. Post time for the first heat is 1:30 p. m. EST.

Three of the ten entries are from Ohio. They are: Poplar Pence, owned by S. A. Huttenbauer of Cincinnati; So Big, owned by F. F. Garrett of Wilmington; and Buckeye, a Saunders Mills entry from Toledo.

The pacers will start with the first eight abreast. The other two, Bachelor Hanover and Newport Frisco, will line up behind the one-two horses in the first tier.

The entries, listed by post positions, along with the names of drivers and today's odds, are:

Model of Earth Satellite on Display

NEW YORK (AP)—The Navy has unveiled a full-scale model of the gleaming metal ball that will whiz into outer space as the world's first man-made satellite.

The tiny globe will circle the earth in a search for the secrets of space heretofore beyond man's reach.

The model was exhibited Monday at a conference of the Instrument Society of America.

The shiny sphere is 20 inches across and weighs about 21 pounds when packed with its miniature instruments. Several small discs (the eyes, ears and fingers of its metal brain) pock the smooth surface of the ball.

Four radio aerials about a yard long stick out from the satellite. Radios inside will relay data back to earth.

Present plans call for launching the satellite during the International Geophysical Year starting next July 1.

Rockets will shoot the satellite skyward on the first two stages of its flight. After that a solid fuel propulsion unit inside will take over and push the satellite to a final limit 300 miles above the earth's surface.

The satellite will orbit the planet at 18,000 miles per hour.

One Navy expert forecast a life span of about two weeks for the satellite. He said collisions with meteors will slow it down and start it dropping back to earth.

The satellite will then burn up in heat generated by friction with the thickening lower atmosphere.

The miniature equipment that will fit inside the metal ball was also displayed at the exhibit. The device included:

1. A 13-ounce radio transmitter with a 4,000-mile range.
2. A microphone to detect collisions between the satellite and tiny particles of matter, including "meteorite dust."
3. A pressure gauge to show if the sphere's shell is punctured.

"No one could feel more strongly than I do about the giveaways of our natural resources by this (Eisenhower) administration, to which, as I understand it, President Truman was referring, and not to the personal honesty or integrity of President Eisenhower," Stevenson said Monday.

STEVENSON said he has no doubt Truman will have far more requests to speak during the campaign "than he can possibly accommodate." And he said the Democratic National Committee will see to it that Truman "is used where and when it will serve the party's best interests."

In his comment on Alger Hiss, Stevenson said that in prodding him on Hiss such Republican leaders as Vice President Nixon and GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall are "back on the same low road they traveled" during the 1954 campaign.

Stevenson called on Eisenhower to say whether he approves "this sort of campaigning." There was no White House comment.

Hiss, a former State Department employee, served almost four years in federal prison after being convicted of perjury in denying he ever passed government secrets to a Soviet spy ring.

Truman replied "No" when asked in Milwaukee Sept. 3 whether he considered Hiss a Communist spy.

Nixon and Hall, among others, later challenged Stevenson to repudiate that Truman statement.

Asked whether he subscribed to the Truman view, Stevenson recalled he declared regarding Hiss during the 1952 campaign:

"AS I HAVE repeatedly said, I have never doubted the verdict of the jury which convicted him."

Monday Stevenson added:

"Nothing has happened since then to change my views."

In Cincinnati, U. S. Sen. Albert Gore said Monday night that the earmark of the Eisenhower administration is what he called "a disinclination to decide."

The Tennessee senator told a Democratic party workers' meeting that "for lack of virile and aggressive leadership, the United States is falling behind."

He said, "neither a pleasant personality, knowledge of history nor political organization, however good, can be a substitute for the vigor and will to make decisions."

"Constant resort to 'further study' by commissions, committees and associated demonstrates a disinclination to decide."

Cincinnati Holding Woman Swindler

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police last night returned from Fremont a Cleveland woman, Mrs. Sherry Caldwell, 29, charged by two women here with swindling them out of more than $3,000.

Investigators said she denied charges that she told them of finding a purse with a lot of money and would share it if they would put up "good faith" money. One woman said she lost $2,848, the other $1,000.

Police said Mrs. Caldwell was free on $5,000 bond on a swindling indictment in Fremont.

Madison Mills Store Robbery Nets $1,100; Two Men Hunted

Sheriff Orland Hays today was following meager clues as he started a hunt for two "fairly well-dressed" young men, wanted for questioning in the disappearance of about $600 in checks and $500 in cash from the D. H. Gordon Store at Madison Mills Monday afternoon.

Sheriff Hays said Mrs. Gordon

told him the two men drove up in front of the store and asked that 10 gallons of gasoline be put in their car.

While she was at the gasoline pump outside, the two sauntered into the store and asked: "Where is the pop case?"

When Mrs. Gordon told them "the mister will be here in just a minute," she told Sheriff Hays they replied "fill it up."

That last remark, the sheriff said he believes, was intended to keep Mrs. Gordon outside and give the men more time alone in the store.

WHEN THEY CAME out, she said, they handed her a $20 bill, but when she asked them about the pop they said "forget it" and drove rapidly west on the CCC Highway. Mrs. Gordon said she could not remember whether she gave the men change.

Soon after the car left, Mrs. Gordon told the sheriff her husband came to the store. No one else had been there, she added.

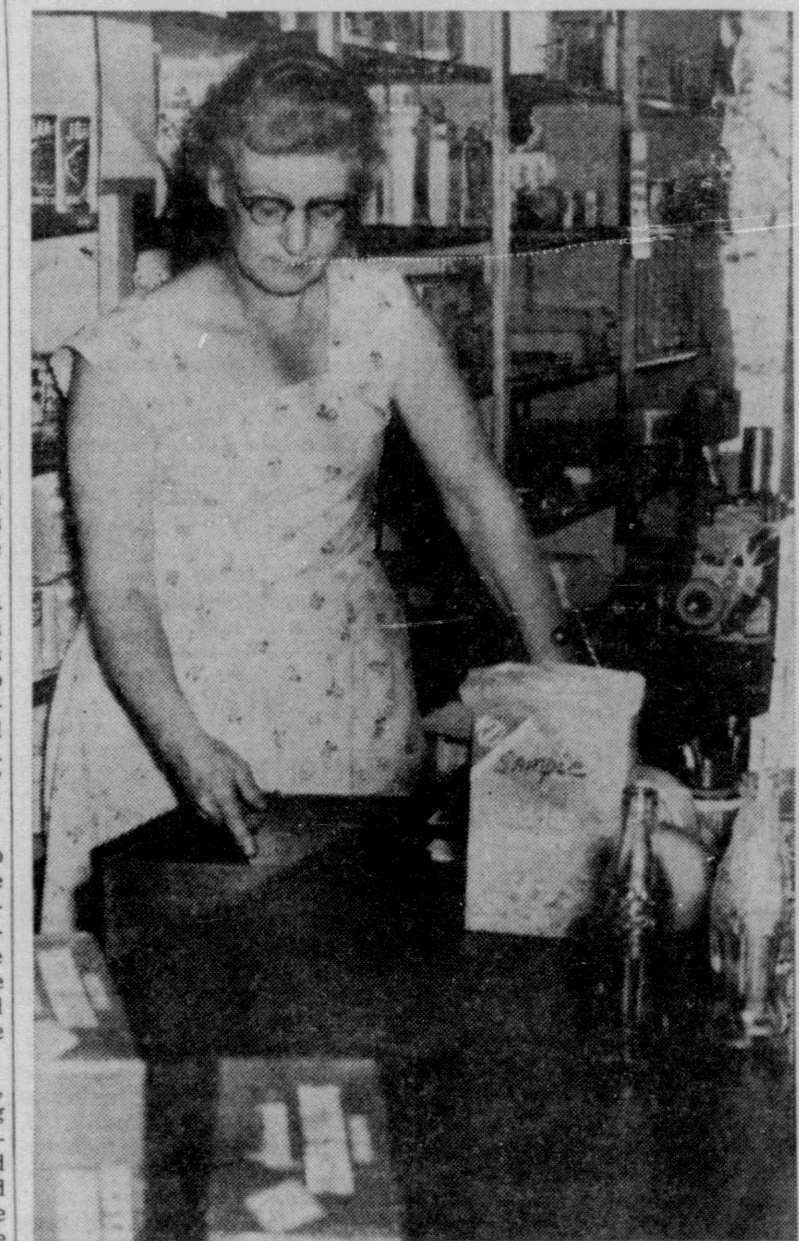

The checks and money were not missed, the sheriff said, until Gordon went into the store to get the money to pay Guy Briggs for the gasoline he had put in tanks for the pumps.

When Gordon went to the drawer where the money was kept the sheriff said he found it empty.

The sheriff's radio message following his preliminary investigation was picked up by his deputies and the State Highway Patrol. A short time later two hitchhikers from West Virginia were picked up by a Highway Patrol officer from the Piketon Station on Route 35 and placed in jail at Piketon.

They were questioned at length where the money was kept the sheriff said and released at 9 p. m. on Sheriff Hays' request.

Sheriff Hays said it is believed the car was from Kentucky—and that this was his best clue to the men wanted for questioning.

MRS. DON GORDON was alone in her husband's grocery store in Madison Mills when two men pulled up in front of the store, ostensibly to get gasoline. While she was pumping gas the men took $1,100 in cash and checks from the drawer to which she points to, underneath the cash register.

PUCO To Hear Phone Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today permitted Prosecutor William Ammer of Circleville, Pickaway County, to enter a case in which the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. is accused of charging rates out of line with the quality of service provided during a strike.

The Board of Trade of Yorkville, Tiltonsville and Rayland, Jefferson County, made the original complaint, and Ammer said there is a similar situation in the Pickaway County area served by the telephone company.

The company said it is ready, willing and able to provide telephone service. It added it was forced to close its Tiltonsville exchange for limited periods because that village was unable to provide reasonable police protection.

In asking that the complaint be dismissed, the company said it is adjusting rates where inadequate service was due to the strike or accidents or vandalism.

A hearing date has yet to be announced.

MEANWHILE, five Ohio Consolidated supervisors were hospitalized in Portsmouth today after an estimated 25 to 30 persons attacked them while they repaired cables.

The supervisors told police members of repair teams were attacked in Sciotoville and another group were attacked while repairing cables.

If an entry takes the Jug in two straight heats, his owner will pocket a total of $29,602. Post time for the first heat is 1:30 p. m. EST.

Three of the ten entries are from Ohio. They are: Poplar Pence, owned by S. A. Huttenbauer of Cincinnati; So Big, owned by F. F. Garrett of Wilmington; and Buckeye, a Saunders Mills entry from Toledo.

The pacers will start with the first eight abreast. The other two, Bachelor Hanover and Newport Frisco, will line up behind the one-two horses in the first tier.

The entries, listed by post positions, along with the names of drivers and today's odds, are:

1. Canny Scott (Ervin) 8-1
2. Adioscot (Miller) 5-1
3. Adiwage (O'Brien) 8-1
4. High Bay (Elliott) 50-1
5. Noble Adios (Simson) 5-2
6. Poplar Pence (Hackett) 30-1
7. So Big (Current) 20-1
8. Buckeye (Fitzpatrick) 15-1
9. Bachelor Hanover (Haughton) 8-5
10. Newport Frisco (Cameron) 12-1

The trailer was loaded with 840 cases of premium beer. The State Highway Patrol, dispatched to help clean up the mess, acknowledged that local "salvage" crews had reached the scene first.

The truck driver, John Reuse, 41, of Chagrin Falls, reported he neither saw nor heard the train until it was a few feet away. No one was hurt.

The trailer will then burn up in heat generated by friction with the thickening lower atmosphere.

The miniature equipment that will fit inside the metal ball was also displayed at the exhibit. The device included:

1. A 13-ounce radio transmitter with a 4,000-mile range.

2. A microphone to detect collisions between the satellite and tiny particles of matter, including "meteorite dust."

3. A pressure gauge to show if the sphere's shell is punctured.

Police were told the repairmen were attacked with clubs, hammers and ax handles. A ladder was pulled from under one victim who was working on a telephone pole, the supervisors said. The windows of repair trucks at both locations also were smashed.

Jet Bomber Falls, Killing 5 of Crewmen

MADERA, Calif. (AP)—A huge intercontinental jet bomber, losing a wing as it fell, crashed in flames and exploded Monday, killing five of its seven crewmen.

The two others, including the plane commander, parachuted safely.

Several witnesses reported seeing at least three parachutes, one of them burning furiously. How many of the crewmen took to parachutes wasn't determined.

The eight engine B52, largest of the nation's atomic bombers, plunged into a field near U. S. 99, California's busiest highway.

Flaming wreckage and burning gasoline cascaded over a wide area, destroying a farmhouse and endangering vehicles on the highway. Debris hit an automobile and a labor contractor's bus, loaded with farm workers. But no one was injured.

Several hours later, the Air Force grounded all B52 flights out of Castle Air Force Base, the big bomber's base 40 miles north of Madera. It was the second time the giant planes have been grounded since they became operational.

Earlier this year, one of the eight-engine giants exploded in flight near Tracy, Calif. Finding of the investigation that followed never were made public. An Air Force spokesman said Monday night there was no similarity between the two accidents.

'Nervous Fear' Reported at Marine Camp

NORWALK (AP)—The mother of a Marine recruit, who claims he was hit in the stomach by a corporal for failing to say "sir," said today the Marines at Parris Island are "living under a fear, a nervous fear."

The South Carolina training station is the same place where six Marine recruits drowned in a marsh during a night march earlier in the summer. A drill sergeant faces a prison term and a dishonorable discharge in the incident.

Mrs. R. L. Hamisfar, mother of six children and wife of a World War I Army veteran, said she had been at other camps but had never seen such "fear" as evidenced at Parris Island.

She claims her 20-year-old son, Donald, was hit by a corporal for not saying "sir" to the noncommissioned officer during a mop and bucket demonstration.

Hamisfar underwent an emergency hernia operation. The Marine Corps, which is investigating the whole incident, said the recruit had a congenital hernia and it did not know whether any blow aggravated the situation.

Mrs. Hamisfar said Donald "wanted out of there" (the Marines) but did not know whether he would formally apply for such a release. She said she was not planning to ask for any release and that such a step was up to him.

"I wonder what kind of care and treatment he'll get," she told a reporter. "He overheard an officer say they'll get him when he gets out."

"Marines on the island are afraid to talk, afraid to tell you anything. However, the treatment at the hospital is quite good."

29 Cons in Texas Slash Themselves

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Twenty-nine of the toughest inmates in the Texas prison system slashed themselves with razor blades Monday night in a food protest.

They were among the 76 involved in a strike in the maximum security unit last week in another protest involving the food. Prison General Manager O. B. Ellis said.

Ellis said 10 of the men severed their heel tendons and 18 inflicted superficial wounds on arms.

Men in the maximum security unit do no work, get two meals a day and a snack at night.

Union Chief Lauds U. S. 'Capitalism'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—America has produced a "people's capitalism" that can present to the world as "the real way of economic and political life for all mankind," says David J. McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers union.

In his address opening the steelworkers' convention Monday the head of the 1,200,000-member union declared:

"One out of 12 adult Americans own stock in an American corporation. Contrast this with what exists in Communist countries. Perhaps one out of 12 in the Soviet Union is a political prisoner."

Zoo Curator To Wrestle 'Al' Alligator

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Alfred the alligator was still free today in Lincoln Park Zoo's lake but he's making his pursuers mad.

Armed with a bow and a harpoon-like arrow, zoo curator Bob Jenni has promised to corral the elusive Albert, who slipped out of the reptile house early Sunday.

It was the same zoo from which a leopard escaped in 1950 for three days.

Jenni, who weighs 145 pounds, and his assistant Mike Williams, spent most of Monday splashing about in the muddy lake trying to spot Alfred.

Jenni said the fugitive needs to surface for air only about every four hours and can go a week without food. But he said he hopes to wrestle 250-pound Alfred into a noose soon.

The slightly built curator got off two shots with his arrow but one missed and the second arrow was knocked loose by Alfred.

Jenni hopes to stick the arrow in Alfred and pull him to shallow water with a cord attached to the missile. There, he says, he will battle the eight-foot reptile and tie him up.

"We'll get a noose around his neck, and then hitch around his mouth to keep it closed," Jenni explained. "Then a sort of girdle effect up under his front legs to keep them still."

Jenni said Alfred poses no danger to anyone. Swimming is not allowed in the lake.

Executive Sought in Acid Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI and the Manhattan district attorney's staff are conducting a nationwide search for a dressmaking firm executive in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The wanted man, Theodore R. 43, is described by authorities as a "close associate" of racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, 42, alleged ringleader of six men under indictment with him in the Riesel case.

Officials indicated that Riel may have been one of Dio's bodyguards.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said his men have been seeking Riel since shortly after the blinding acid was thrown into Riesel's face on a street just off Broadway early April 5.

"Riel is believed to have been the driver of an auto which figured in the transportation of one or more men involved in the acid hurling," Williams said.

The FBI said Riel is wanted on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice through the attack on Riesel.

Riel reportedly has been missing from his usual haunts here since Abraham Teveli, described by authorities as the actual acid thrower, was found shot to death July 28. Authorities said Teveli had upped his money demands for executing the attack on Riesel.

The FBI said Riel recently has been an executive of the Acme Dress Co., Midvale, N. J.

Paint-Wiping Canvas Wins Top Art Prize

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A newspaper reporter who paints pictures for the fun of it won a blue ribbon at the Tennessee State Fair Monday with the canvas he used to get rid of excess paint.

Charles Fontenay, a reporter for the Nashville Tennessean, said he used the old piece of dun-colored canvas to wipe off his knife after scraping his palette in the course of painting seriously.

He added that the resulting riot of colors caught his eye and caused him to smear them more widely. The last smear of all was done accidentally by his topcoat as he picked up the "painting" while some of the thick daubs were still wet.

The judge who awarded the blue ribbon, Robert Taugner of the University of Tennessee, said:

"I knew it could be a fraud or a joke. It was haphazard to say the least. But from a professional point of view, I gave it the prize because of the artist's excellent selectivity in color."

"His sensitivity was so successful, he created a complementing of colors that brought off a rather sophisticated painting."

But Fontenay chuckled: "It has no design or color scheme, and whatever paints were slapped on the canvas at random."

A strike by Communications Workers of America (CWA) began last July 15. Authorities said today's outburst was the first serious violence in several weeks. The company has reported numerous instances of cable cutting. Union officials have denied any knowledge of the incidents.

At New Philadelphia Monday night CWA members rejected a proposal by General Telephone Co., parent company of Ohio Consolidated. The proposal, which was made last Thursday, offered a temporary contract through next Dec. 25, expiration date for other CWA contracts.

Negotiations in the strike have bogged down as the union insisted that all benefits included in the old contract be carried over into the new one. Union officials said General Telephone had no union shop.

Noel Field Happy To Stay In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Noel Field said today he is and always will be an American, but "I am not sorry for my decision to stay and work in this country where I suffered so much."

Field is the one-time State Department official who with his wife asked for political asylum in Communist Hungary in 1954 after five years in a Hungarian prison without trial. His name figured in the treason trial here of former Hungarian Foreign Secretary Laszlo Rajk, who was executed for plotting with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

In the United States, admitted former Communists Whittaker Chambers and Hede Massing testified that Field once was a member of a Communist apparatus in Washington.

Szabados Nep, the official Communist party organ, published a letter from Field expressing his "elation" over recent changes in the Communist world. He called this a "run toward humanitarianism of which I am living witness."

Field called himself "an American citizen living in Hungary out of my free will." He said:

"But I did not turn my back on my own country. I am and always will be an American always with passionate sympathy increasing evidence that America gradually is awakening from a nightmare of reactionary internal politics and of foreign policy of cold war."

"I hope and believe that the day will come when I also will have my place in the rank and file of American progressive forces."

In London, the foreign ministers and ambassadors are to open formal sessions Wednesday to take up a Big Three proposal for a users' association to handle the passage of their ships through the waterway.

Secretary of State Dulles arrived by plane from Washington after a last-minute conference with President Eisenhower.

The second London Suez conference was assured 100 per cent attendance by Ethiopia's acceptance of the invitation. The 18 nations are those which at last month's 22-nation London conference, supported the Big Three's plan for international control and operation of the canal.

NASSER, who nationalized the old Suez Canal Co. July 26, rejected the earlier plan and has denounced the proposal for a users' association as a "declaration of war."

The association would employ veteran Suez pilots to take its own convoys through the canal, collect tolls and reimburse Egypt.

Nasser has warned that any move to force a convoy through the channel would mean war, an outcome most of the 18 nations are pledged to avoid.

One suggestion is that a guinea pig convoy should steam up to one entrance to the canal and request permission to pass through. If Nasser refused, the Big Three consider he could be accused in

Highway Council Firm on Rates

COLUMBUS (AP)—The State Highway Construction Council today stood firm on its position that Ohio cities pay 10 per cent of the cost of interstate highway construction in cities.

The council unanimously adopted a motion reaffirming its position which is opposite that taken by Gov. Frank J. Lausche and the state highway director, Samuel O. Linzell.

The governor and Linzell had suggested the construction council adopt a road cost sharing program that would let cities shoulder 5 per cent of costs on interstate highway work within their boundaries, plus the cost of "acceptable plans" for the construction.

Russell Wood of Gallipolis, has accepted a position with the C. A. Gossard Company. He served four years with the United States Air Force, with overseas duty in Germany and France, and is a graduate of Elgin Watch College, Elgin, Ill. He began his new duties Monday.

Charles P. Wagner, Fayette County Engineer, is in Mackinac Island, Michigan, attending the Convention of the American Road Builders Association. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. Fred Burger, nee Wanda Plantz, formerly of Washington C. H. is reported as recovering, following major surgery in University Hospital, Columbus. Mrs. Burger has made her home in Columbus for the past several years.

Paul Warnecke, A. M., who has just graduated from Electronic Technician's School, at the Navy Base, Memphis, Tenn., is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Warnecke.

Marvin Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Smith, of Jeffersonville, has returned to the University of Cincinnati, for his sophomore year. He is enrolled in the aeronautical Engineering Course.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mercer, 6 Sunny Drive, are the parents of a seven pound daughter, born Monday, at 8:35 p. m., in Memorial Hospital.

A daughter, weighing seven pounds, four ounces, was born at 8:00 a. m. Monday, in Memorial Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart, of Bloomingburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Faye Woodruff, Route 3, Sabina, are the parents of a nine pound, two ounce son, born Monday at 12:25 p. m., in Memorial Hospital.

A popular utility in American homes in 1898 was a copper lined bath box which, when not in use as a bath tub, was used as a storage place for clothes.

Zoo Curator To Wrestle 'Al' Alligator

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Alfred the alligator was still free today in Lincoln Park Zoo's lake but he's making his pursuers mad.

Armed with a bow and a harpoon-like arrow, zoo curator Bob Jenni has promised to corral the elusive Albert, who slipped out of the reptile house early Sunday.

It was the same zoo from which a leopard escaped in 1950 for three days.

Jenni, who weighs 145 pounds, and his assistant Mike Williams, spent most of Monday splashing about in the muddy lake trying to spot Alfred.

Jenni said the fugitive needs to surface for air only about every four hours and can go a week without food. But he said he hopes to wrestle 250-pound Alfred into a noose soon.

The slightly built curator got off two shots with his arrow but one missed and the second arrow was knocked loose by Alfred.

Jenni hopes to stick the arrow in Alfred and pull him to shallow water with a cord attached to the missile. There, he says, he will battle the eight-foot reptile and tie him up.

"We'll get a noose around his neck, and then hitch him around his mouth to keep it closed," Jenni explained. "Then a sort of girdle effect up under his front legs to keep them still."

Jenni said Alfred poses no danger to anyone. Swimming is not allowed in the lake.

Executive Sought in Acid Case

NEW YORK (P)—The FBI and the Manhattan district attorney's staff are conducting a nationwide search for a dressmaking firm executive in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The wanted man, Theodore Rij, 43, is described by authorities as a "close associate" of racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, 42, alleged ringleader of six men under indictment with him in the Riesel case.

Officials indicated that Rij may have been one of Dio's bodyguards.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said his men have been seeking Rij since shortly after the blinding acid was thrown into Riesel's face on a street just off Broadway early April 5.

"Rij is believed to have been the driver of an auto which figured in the transportation of one or more men involved in the acid hurling," Williams said.

The FBI said Rij is wanted on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice through the attack on Riesel.

Rij reportedly has been missing from his usual haunts here since Abraham Telvi, described by authorities as the actual acid thrower, was found shot to death July 28. Authorities said Telvi had upped his money demands for executing the attack on Riesel.

The FBI said Rij recently has been an executive of the Acme Dress Co., Midvale, N. J.

Dresses Found

KANSAS CITY (P)—The $250,000 worth of exclusive dresses reported missing here Saturday have been found in New Orleans. The FBI said the 92 dresses were not stolen, but simply were misdirected in shipment.

Paint-Wiping Canvas Wins Top Art Prize

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (P)—A newspaper reporter who paints pictures for the fun of it won a blue ribbon at the Tennessee State Fair Monday with the canvas he used to get rid of excess paint.

Charles Fontanay, a reporter for the Nashville Tennessean, said he used the old piece of dun-colored canvas to wipe off his knife after scraping his palette in the course of painting seriously.

He added that the resulting riot of colors caught his eye and caused him to smear them more widely. The last smear of all was done accidentally by his topcoat as he picked up the "painting" while some of the thick daubs were still wet.

The judge who awarded the blue ribbon, Robert Taugner of the University of Tennessee, said:

"I knew it could be a fraud or a joke. It was haphazard to say the least. But from a professional point of view, I gave it the prize because of the artist's excellent selectivity in color."

"His sensitivity was so successful, he created a complementing of colors that brought off a rather sophisticated painting."

But Fontanay chuckled: "It has no design or color scheme, and whatever painted used were slapped on the canvas at random."

At New Philadelphia Monday night CWA members rejected a proposal by General Telephone Co., parent company of Ohio Consolidated. The proposal, which was made last Thursday, offered a temporary contract through next Dec. 25, expiration date for other CWA contracts.

Negotiations in the strike have bogged down as the union insisted that all benefits included in the old contract be carried over into the new one. Union officials said General Telephone had no union shop

Defiance College To Hear Nixon

DEFIANCE (P)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is scheduled to speak at the Defiance College campus at 4 p. m. Oct. 15, Ralph W. Peters, vice president of the college announced today.

Peters said Kevin McCann, Defiance College president, now on a leave of absence to serve as a member of the White House staff told him Nixon would speak here.

Nixon's talk, Peters said, will be the first of a series of addresses by national figures to celebrate Defiance College's "Report on the World," a program through which the college expects to play host to at least 10 of the leading foreign ambassadors to the United States.

Noel Field Happy To Stay In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (P)—Noel Field said today he is and always will be an American, but "I am not sorry for my decision to stay and work in this country where I suffered so much."

Field is the one-time State Department official who with his wife asked for political asylum in Communist Hungary in 1954 after five years in a Hungarian prison without trial. His name figured in the treason trial here of former Hungarian Foreign Secretary Laszlo Rajk, who was executed for plotting with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

In the United States, admitted former Communists Whittaker Chambers and Hede Massing testified that Field once was a member of a Communist apparatus in Washington.

Szabod Nep, the official Communist party organ, published a letter from Field expressing his "elation" over recent changes in the Communist world. He called this a "run toward humanitarianism of which I am living witness."

Field called himself "an American citizen living in Hungary out of my free will." He said:

"But I did not turn my back on my own country. I am and always will be an American watching with passionate sympathy increasing evidence that America gradually is awakening from a nightmare of reactionary internal politics and of foreign policy of cold war."

"I hope and believe that the day will come when I also will have my place in the rank and file of American progressive forces."

In London, the foreign ministers and ambassadors are to open formal sessions Wednesday to take up a Big Three proposal for a users' association to handle the passage of their ships through the waterway.

Secretary of State Dulles arrived by plane from Washington after a last-minute conference with President Eisenhower.

The second London Suez conference was assured 100 per cent attendance by Ethiopia's acceptance of the invitation. The 18 nations are those which at last month's 22-nation London conference, supported the Big Three's plan for international control and operation of the canal.

NASSER, who nationalized the old Suez Canal Co. July 26, rejected the earlier plan and has denounced the proposal for a users' association as a "declaration of war."

The association would employ veteran Suez pilots to take its own convoys through the canal, collect tolls and reimburse Egypt.

Nasser has warned that any move to force a convoy through the channel would mean war, an outcome most of the 18 nations are pledged to avoid.

One suggestion is that a guinea pig convoy should steam up to one entrance to the canal and request permission to pass through. If Nasser refused, the Big Three consider he could be accused in COLUMBUS (P)—The State Highway Construction Council today stood firm on its position that Ohio cities pay 10 per cent of the cost of interstate highway construction in cities.

The council unanimously adopted a motion reaffirming its position which is opposite that taken by Gov. Frank J. Lausche and the state highway director, Samuel O. Linzell.

The governor and Linzell had suggested the construction council adopt a road cost sharing program that would let cities shoulder 5 per cent of costs on interstate highway work within their boundaries, plus the cost of "acceptable plans" for the construction.

U. S. Business Optimism Runs At New High

Stock Mart. Financial Circles Rather Cool About Months to Come

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Optimism over business prospects in the coming months could scarcely be higher today—except in the stock market and among some of the more cautious of the financial fraternity.

The roll call of those seeing good times ahead covers most of the major industries, retail trade and even man-of-the-farmers, whose income in the last three months has risen about 9 per cent over a year ago, according to the Agriculture Department.

Manufacturers have been testing good times of late by raising prices on many things, to pass along recent increases in labor and material costs—and so far at least the price hikes seem to be sticking, although the consumer hasn't been heard from yet at the retail level.

The steel industry says orders in sight mean capacity business for some time to come with a continuing scramble by users for some steel products in short supply.

The auto industry insists that in spite of higher prices, the new models will prove irresistible to the consumers. The industry shrugs off the record size of installment debt still owned by consumers and the tightness of money in general.

So do the merchants. Retail trade has been running above a year ago. Fattened pocketbooks of workers who have received wage increases and swelling employment totals make merchants sure this will be their merriest Christmas. And many store keepers are plugging for more charge accounts and other time payment plans.

Appliance makers also count on rising personal incomes to jack up sales of TV sets, washers and refrigerators.

The construction industry couldn't be happier—except that portion that builds homes. Even housing picked up a little in August, although the pace is expected to slacken again in the fall. Builders blame tight money.

Business expansion plans apparently hold high in spite of rising costs—and even in face of still rising inventories produced with present capacity.

And, therefore, the makers of capital goods—the machinery, the tools and other equipment that will go into the new plants—prosper and predict they will continue to next year.

and Bible School as well as invited guests. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. followed by special music by the women's sextet.

Mr. Purtell, a native of Sabina, was for some time a resident of the New Martinsburg community and graduated from high school at Greenfield. He formerly was an assistant to the late Dr. Leroy Burris and at one time was a bookkeeper for the Farm Bureau.

HE ENTERED Kentucky Christian College in 1949, receiving his bachelor of arts degree in 1952. He was ordained into the ministry at the First Christian Church in 1951 along with Ronald Merritt and Clarence Mansfield. He served the Blevins Valley Christian Church in Kentucky for one year and was pastor of the Bradbury Church of Christ in Middleport for nearly four years. He has been at West Mansfield for the last 22 months. Thursday evening's meeting will be in the nature of a homecoming for Mr. Purtell, according to the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the local church.

$86 Million Jet Order Is Placed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has awarded an $86-million-dollar contract to North American Aviation Corp. for development of a supersonic attack plane.

Announcement of the contract Monday said preliminary work on the new aircraft carrier plane, to be known as the A3J, would begin immediately at North American's Columbus, Ohio, plant.

Specific performance information on the plane was withheld but the Navy said its speed would be in the "high supersonic" range. It will carry a two-man crew and be powered by twin jet engines of a type to be announced later.

Northeastern Ohio Farmers Await Word on Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northeast Ohio farmers will learn in a few weeks whether they can buy feed grain at reduced prices, as requested by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

But the answer to the governor's other request to President Eisenhower—that these same farmers be granted emergency low interest loans—can be given now. The answer is "no."

These responses came today from officials at the agriculture department concerning Lausche's recommendation that 33 northeast Ohio counties be declared a disaster area.

Acting because farmers in this sector suffered heavy crop losses through wind and rain, Lausche asked the president that they be allowed to:

1. Buy feed grain—oats, barley, corn—at cut rates. The price is computed by subtracting $1 from the going hundred pound rate on the local market. This grain is purchased from grain dealers, with the government reimbursing the dealers with feed from warehouses.

2. Borrow emergency loan money from the Farmers Home Administration, at three per cent interest, to conduct normal farm operations. This has been ruled out on the grounds that other sources of credit—public and private—are adequate.

Judge Disqualifies Self for Trial Here

Judge John P. Case of Fayette County's Common Pleas Court has disqualified himself from presiding at the trial of Charles Wheeler, indicted for burglary, because he is represented by J. Harvey Crowe. The trial is to open at 9 a. m. Friday.

Judge Case, one of the three-judge court that disbarred Crowe, noted in his entry of disqualification "under the circumstances... the appearance of J. Harvey Crowe, as attorney for Wheeler... would create unfavorable trial conditions which would substantially tend to defeat and obstruct the ends of justice."

Carl V. Weygandt, chief justice of the supreme court, who will assign a judge to hear the case here, was sent a copy of the entry of disqualification.

Judge Case noted in his entry that he, Judge Paul Dull of Mercer County and Judge Charles Kirk of Clinton County issued a judgement entry of disbarment against Crowe in Champaign County in March of last year. But in May, the Court of Appeals granted a stay of execution which is still in effect.

LOST 29 lbs HEALTH IMPROVED

CANTON, OHIO—Thanks to Renel Concentrate I have decreased my weight from 165 lbs. to 136 lbs. without having a feeling of hunger or being irritable," writes Mrs. Elva Castro, 2640 Gilbert Ave. N.E., Canton, O. "My health has greatly improved. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENEL Concentrate. You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with RENEL."

department spokesman said today a field man will be on an inspection tour some time this week of most—if not all—of the 33 Ohio counties.

"The field man's name is Harry Thomas," the spokesman said, "and he will make a very careful survey."

"We have to determine that a major disaster—a catastrophe—has actually occurred."

Thomas, the spokesman said, will go to Columbus before making his field trip to confer with Walter E. Sollars, Ohio chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

His report will be reviewed by the White House and the Civil Defense Administration to determine whether to declare northeast Ohio a disaster area.

If the decision is "yes," then the farmers there can buy the low price feed.

With respect to the requested low cost loans, Frank Pollard chief of the emergency loan branch of the Farmers Home Administration, said he and his aides have decided this isn't necessary.

Pollard said: "Our conclusion at this time—withstanding losses that individuals have suffered—is that we are equipped to meet credit needs through our regular facilities."

The agency normally grants loans at five per cent interest. However, this money can be spent on a far wider range of needs than the "stop-gap" emergency loans.

Under consideration here for disaster classification are the following Ohio counties:

Erie, Huron, Lorain, Cuyahoga, Medina, Summit, Lake, Geauga, Portage, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Wayne, Stark, Columbiana, Morrow, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Jefferson, Knox, Coshocton, Harrison, Licking, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Morgan, Noble and Monroe.

Housecleaning Warning Issued

By DOROTHY ROE

Ladies who insist on cleaning out their attics may be throwing away unsuspected fortunes, says Sigmund Rothschild, who knows his antiques.

"Never throw away old papers, old bundles of letters, grubby old pictures that used to belong to grandma or even moldy old books," advises Rothschild. "At least don't throw them away until you have an antique dealer or appraiser look at them. You may have a stamp that's worth more than your mortgage. Or a letter of historical value that will pay for a trip around the world."

Rothschild's family has been in the antique business in New York for more than a century, and he makes his principal business these days appraising estates and antiques. Off and on for a number of years he has had a television show, wherein the public is invited to bring in family treasures for appraisal.

"About one out of 20 of the people who come in with antiques to be appraised hit the jackpot," says Rothschild. "Usually the things they think are most valuable turn out to be comparatively worthless but something they have overlooked, such as an old letter or first edition book, turn out to be bonanzas."

The most frequent find in the average family is old jewelry, valuable for authenticity of period, beauty of design or historical importance, says Rothschild.

Newark Jury Eyes Fatal Beating Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A Licking County grand jury will reconvene today to consider charges against

Harold Shackelford, 32, in the beating death of a Newark spinster.

Newark police said Shackelford, a San Quentin parolee, has signed a statement admitting the fatal beating last Sunday of Miss Mary T. Dunn, 51, whose body was found in an alley near her home.

Prosecutor Forrest Ashcraft has indicated he will seek an indictment of first degree murder with attempt to rape.

Shackelford was on parole from San Quentin after serving five years and nine months on charges of kidnaping, criminal assault and robbery.

But the answer to the governor's other request to President Eisenhower—that these same farmers be granted emergency low interest loans—can be given now. The answer is "no."

These responses came today from officials at the agriculture department concerning Lausche's recommendation that 33 northeast Ohio counties be declared a disaster area.

Acting because farmers in this sector suffered heavy crop losses through wind and rain, Lausche asked the president that they be allowed to:

1. Buy feed grain—oats, barley, corn—at cut rates. The price is computed by subtracting $1 from the going hundred pound rate on the local market. This grain is purchased from grain dealers, with the government reimbursing the dealers with feed from warehouses.

2. Borrow emergency loan money from the Farmers Home Administration, at three per cent interest, to conduct normal farm operations. This has been ruled out on the grounds that other sources of credit—public and private—are adequate.

On point No. 1, an agriculture department spokesman said today a field man will be on an inspection tour some time this week of most—if not all—of the 33 Ohio counties.

"The field man's name is Harry Thomas," the spokesman said, "and he will make a very careful survey."

"We have to determine that a major disaster—a catastrophe—has actually occurred."

Thomas, the spokesman said, will go to Columbus before making his field trip to confer with Walter E. Sollars, Ohio chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

His report will be reviewed by the White House and the Civil Defense Administration to determine whether to declare northeast Ohio a disaster area.

If the decision is "yes," then the farmers there can buy the low price feed.

With respect to the requested low cost loans, Frank Pollard chief of the emergency loan branch of the Farmers Home Administration, said he and his aides have decided this isn't necessary.

Pollard said: "Our conclusion at this time—nothingwithstanding losses that individuals have suffered—is that we are equipped to meet credit needs through our regular facilities."

The agency normally grants loans at five per cent interest. However, this money can be spent on a far wider range of needs than the "stop-gap" emergency loans.

Under consideration here for disaster classification are the following Ohio counties:

Erie, Huron, Lorain, Cuyahoga, Medina, Summit, Lake, Geauga, Portage, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Wayne, Stark, Columbiana, Morrow, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Jefferson, Knox, Coshocton, Harrison, Licking, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Morgan, Noble and Monroe.

Housecleaning Warning Issued

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor Ladies who insist on cleaning out their attics may be throwing away unsuspected fortunes, says Sigmund Rothschild, who knows his antiques.

"Never throw away old papers, old bundles of letters, grubby old pictures that used to belong to grandma or even moldy old books," advises Rothschild. "At least don't throw them away until you have an antique dealer or appraiser look at them. You may have a stamp that's worth more than your mortgage. Or a letter of historical value that will pay for a trip around the world."

Rothschild's family has been in the antique business in New York for more than a century, and he makes his principal business these days appraising estates and antiques. Off and on for a number of years he has had a television show, wherein the public is invited to bring in family treasures for appraisal.

"About one out of 20 of the people who come in with antiques to be appraised hit the jackpot," says Rothschild. "Usually the things they think are most valuable turn out to be comparatively worthless but something they have overlooked, such as an old letter or first edition book, turn out to be bonanzas."

The most frequent find in the average family is old jewelry, valuable for authenticity of period, beauty of design or historical importance, says Rothschild.

Newark Jury Eyes Fatal Beating Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A Licking County grand jury will reconvene today to consider charges against

Harold Shackelford, 32, in the beating death of a Newark spinster.

Newark police said Shackelford, a San Quentin parolee, has signed a statement admitting the fatal beating last Sunday of Miss Mary T. Dunn, 51, whose body was found in an alley near her home.

Prosecutor Forrest Ashcraft has indicated he will seek an indictment of first degree murder with attempt to rape.

Shackelford was on parole from San Quentin after serving five years and nine months on charges of kidnapping, criminal assault and robbery.

Stevenson's Attack Shows Inconsistency

This is no time to listen to the race-baiters and trouble-makers, some of whom for political purposes in this presidential election year are seeking to arouse trouble for others than themselves.

It is to be noted that Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, has been seeking to launch a vote-seeking issue in our northern states to try to force President Eisenhower to make some drastic moves to force the Supreme Court decision into all-out action in the South.

The inconsistency of Adlai's attempt to involve Eisenhower, as compared with his own attitude at the recent Democratic national convention, is unworthy of the man and makes him appear now to be following the Truman type of campaign.

At the convention Stevenson's supporters, undoubtedly with his consent, forced through a compromise type of plank in the party's platform which sought to take the court ruling sting against the southern states out of the picture. He and his backers did this purely to hold for Stevenson his political support in the South.

It hardly measures up to the proper stature of a man of Stevenson's position who now wants to be president, to be demanding that President Eisenhower do things which he would not espouse himself at his party's convention.

Happenings at the newly-integrated schools in various southern states are not, and cannot as yet be fully evaluated.

For men at either extreme opinion, there is little difficulty. The total integrationist, the man who says that all Negroes should be admitted to all schools immediately, has no problem in his thinking. Neither is there a problem for his opposite extreme, the man who would defy the Supreme Court indefinitely and at whatever cost.

For the man between these extremes, where most men are, there are difficulties.

For such men, the search for a practical solution leads only to deeper puzzlement. They come back always to the depressing realization that there is no temperate, unanimously just, or immediate answer to this conflict between tradition and legal ruling.

These men, finding no answer that quickly solves the problem, must fall back, as men of such character always have done, upon time—and faith in the eventual triumph of reason.

A final solution must depend upon patience and adjustment.

President Eisenhower said in a press conference the federal government should not intervene in racial disturbances arising from school integration unless the states are unable to maintain order.

The President added he believed the states thus far have handled their problems adequately. He thinks the country would be in a bad way if the federal government fell into the practice of using its police powers habitually and continually.

Once again the President asked for "patience, tolerance, education and persuasion" instead of prejudice and violence.

The nation will appreciate the President's position. Certainly it would be a bad thing if the federal government should use its police power habitually or continually.

Eisenhower has declined to be drawn into a statement as to whether he endorses or accepts the Supreme Court decision. He gave the only answer possible for a President, sworn to uphold the Constitution. He said it made no difference whether the President personally endorses the Supreme Court because the President must conform to it under the law and do his best to see that it is carried out.

We need more such common sense and honest talk and less inflammatory talk and distortions.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomats of 18 nations, including Secretary of State Dulles, are converging on London for a conference on the Suez crisis.

This is the background of that crisis which rests, in large measure, on the international convention of 1888 "respecting the free navigation of the Suez Maritime Canal."

This convention was signed at Constantinople Oct. 29, 1888. Parties to it were Great Britain, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Spain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Russia and Turkey.

At the time the Ottoman Empire, which radiated from Turkey, was Egypt's nominal ruler, but in truth Britain held the canal and, for all practical purposes, Egypt itself through agreements with Egypt's all-but-independent Khedive.

England began to enter Egypt commercially in 1848 when the Pasha Abbas I granted permission to build a railroad between Alexandria and Cairo.

After Abbas' death his uncle Said Pasha became Khedive and it was he who gave his good friend, the Frenchman Ferdinand de Lesseps, a franchise to build and operate the Suez Canal.

This franchise, which was to last 99 years (ending in 1968), in no way denied Egypt's sovereignty over the canal.

Originally the British opposed the canal's construction and succeeded in delaying the project for two years. Eventually, though, De

By BEN PRICE
For James Marlow

Lesseps got a go-ahead from Said, who in turn gave the British franchises to operate banks and telegraphs.

Under Ismail, Egypt's finances deteriorated into chaos. Britain and France entered Egypt to protect their investments and took over Egypt's revenue systems.

The presence of these foreigners stirred Egyptians to a revolt under a cabinet member named O. A. In May 1882 there was a massacre of Europeans in Alexandria. Britain invited France to help put down the unrest. France declined and Britain went in alone. She bombarded the Alexandrian forts, landed troops and suppressed Arabi. Suez became a British base.

While Britain brought order and increased Egyptian prosperity, her presence fanned a still burning flame of nationalism.

Meanwhile, British presence at the canal inspired some unrest among the canal's users. The result was the 1888 convention.

The first article declared, "The Suez Maritime Canal shall always be free and open, in time of war as in time of peace, to every vessel of commerce or of war without distinction of flag."

Under Article 8 "the agents in Egypt of the signatory powers... shall be charged with its execution. In case of any event threatening the security of free passage... they shall meet to proceed to the necessary verifications."

"They shall inform the khedival government of the danger... in order that the government may take proper steps to insure protection and the free use of the canal."

Egypt was charged by the convention with insuring the free passage provisions. The treaty said this provision, however, should not interfere "with the measures... (the government) might find necessary to take for securing by their own forces the defense of Egypt and the maintenance of public order."

It is Egypt's present contention that free passage is in no way hampered by Egypt's taking over operation of the canal from the company originally formed by De Lesseps.

Dog's Life Is Pretty Soft

NEW YORK (AP)—If the average man never had it so good in America, well, the average dog is having it even better.

"Dogs in this country are increasing faster than people, percentage-wise," said Walter Kendall "and they are also better fed than their owners because they eat a more balanced diet."

"They are also healthier, because very few dogs drink or smoke," Kendall, a Los Angeles dog food manufacturer who has raised some 500 Scottish terriers, is president of the National Dog Welfare Guild. The organization sponsors the 29th annual National Dog Week, which opens Sunday.

The theme this year is Rover's role in creating a safe home. "Some 17 million American families now own a total of 23 million dogs," said Kendall. "The growth of the suburbs is causing a tremendous increase in the dog population."

"But you don't need a police dog or a mastiff to protect your home. Burglars aren't scared off so much by dogs that attack them as by dogs that alert the household by barking."

"For this purpose the smaller dogs—terriers, miniature schnauzers and toy poodles—are often best, because they are more nervous."

Kendall gave this tip for training watchdogs:

"If you want the dog to guard your house at night, feed him in the morning. Then he'll be alert and hungry by nightfall, and won't fall asleep."

"If you want him to be alert during the day, feed him at night."

Kendall is a strolling encyclopedia of canine statistics, such as:

"Americans spent $264 million for dog food last year, and the nation's pet shops grossed $50 million from the sale of dogs."

"The average dog weighs 20 pounds, eats 800 calories a day, costs $50 a year to feed and lives to be 10 years old."

"The larger the breed the shorter the life. A great Dane ordinarily lives to be 7 or 8, a Chihuahua will last 12 or 15 years."

"I heard of one dog—I forget the breed—that lived to be 26. Since a dog lives seven times as fast as a person, that's equivalent to a man living to be 182."

"Some parents now worry because their young children prefer dog biscuits to cookies. No reason to. They won't hurt a child and have more real food elements than most cookies."

The dog, like man, often becomes a victim of man's civilization. Just like his owner he is prey to a host of ailments ranging from tonsillitis to hepatitis and a seemingly increasing amount of cancer.

"People should beware of feeding their dogs candy and the wrong kind of table scraps," said Kendall. "They have a poor tolerance for sugar. Throws 'em right into dermatitis."

Kendall gets real cross over owners who think it cute to feed their dogs alcoholic drinks. Booze can turn the mildest fido into an uproarious cop-biter.

"Dogs tend to act like the people who own them," said Kendall. "If a man who gets aggressive when he takes aboard too much liquor starts sharing his drinks with his dog, the dog too is likely to develop an aggressive personality."

The Olympics--and Amateurism

Two facts are being made clear by the Olympics and the various sports events which are taking place in many countries.

One is that the Russians believe that every Russian who goes to any country for whatever purpose enjoys the right of extraterritoriality which is usually granted only to government representatives. The incident of the female discus thrower who was arrested in London is a case in the United States, particularly the insistence on the part of Russian officials that they may bring pressure on Americans of Russian origin or upon refugees as though they were actually living in Russia.

As the record develops, it becomes clear that Russian diplomats and foreign officials do not recognize local law as applying to Russians. This female discus thrower shoplifted only $4.68 worth or something like that, but it became a great issue because the Russian government could not permit a Russian citizen to be governed by British law in England.

The second pattern that is becoming clear is that there is no such category as amateur sports in the Soviet world. Sport exists as a method of international propaganda and the sportsman is a government employee engaged in forensic international propaganda.

The essence of the Olympics is universalism and therefore amateurism. It is not an advertising stunt. It is not designed for nationalistic propaganda. If an event is won, it is won by a man or a woman not by a nation and the win itself is not designed to produce evidence of superiority but to show the tremendous capacity of the human race to accommodate itself to disciplines.

Since the founding of the modern Olympics, amateurism has not only prevailed but has been insisted upon. The Marathon, which is the most dramatic event in all sports, a race of more than 26 miles, commemorating the heroic feat of Pheidippides, is a reminder that glory comes not only to those who are crowned but also to those who die. Professional athletes cannot accept this concept because they choose to make sports not a hobby or a joy but a way of earning a living.

This year's Olympics in Australia bring this event to a new continent and to a world far distant from ancient Greece. The very selection of Australia establishes the fundamental principle of universalism. We shall observe how well the principle of amateurism is preserved.

Within 24 hours, these symptoms generally will subside and disappear. Cold compresses might give some relief. Also, your doctor might prescribe adrenalin or Antistine Pristine drops.

Common Cause

Vitreous hemorrhage is a fairly common cause of blindness. It may be a manifestation of hypertension in older persons. In young people, the condition is apt to recur until there is permanent loss of sight.

Generally, once the blood has been absorbed, sight will return. If it is not absorbed, short-wave diathermy of the globe may prove helpful.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. N.: I am about 50 pounds overweight and am bothered with perspiring feet. Can you recommend anything to stop this?

Answer: Usually excessive perspiration of the feet is more common in those who are overweight. Excess weight puts added strain on the feet.

Various preparations are on the market to reduce perspiration of the feet, but the wisest course would be to reduce under a physician's directions.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomats of 18 nations, including Secretary of State Dulles, are converging on London for a conference on the Suez crisis.

This is the background of that crisis which rests, in large measure, on the international convention of 1888 "respecting the free navigation of the Suez Maritime Canal."

This convention was signed at Constantinople Oct. 29, 1888. Parties to it were Great Britain, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Spain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Russia and Turkey.

At the time the Ottoman Empire, which radiated from Turkey, was Egypt's nominal ruler, but in truth Britain held the canal and, for all practical purposes, Egypt itself through agreements with Egypt's all-but-independent Khedive.

England began to enter Egypt commercially in 1848 when the Pasha Abbas I granted permission to build a railroad between Alexandria and Cairo.

After Abbas' death his uncle Said Pasha became Khedive and it was he who gave his good friend, the Frenchman Ferdinand de Lesseps, a franchise to build and operate the Suez Canal.

This franchise, which was to last 99 years (ending in 1968), in no way denied Egypt's sovereignty over the canal.

Originally the British opposed the canal's construction and succeeded in delaying the project for two years. Eventually, though, De Lesseps got a go-ahead from Said, who in turn gave the British franchises to operate banks and telegraphs.

Under Ismail, Egypt's finances deteriorated into chaos. Britain and France entered Egypt to protect their investments and took over Egypt's revenue systems.

The presence of these foreigners stirred Egyptians to a revolt under a cabinet member named Orabi. In May 1882 there was a massacre of Europeans in Alexandria. Britain invited France to help put down the unrest. France declined and Britain went in alone. She bombarded the Alexandrian forts, landed troops and suppressed Orabi. Suez became a British base.

While Britain brought order and increased Egyptian prosperity, her presence fanned a still burning flame of nationalism.

Meanwhile, British presence at the canal inspired some unrest among the canal's users. The result was the 1888 convention.

The first article declared, "The Suez Maritime Canal shall always be free and open, in time of war as in time of peace, to every vessel of commerce or of war without distinction of flag."

Under Article 8 "the agents in Egypt of the signatory powers . . . shall be charged with its execution. In case of any event threatening the security of free passage . . . they shall meet to proceed to the necessary verifications."

"They shall inform the Khedival government of the danger . . . in order that the government may take proper steps to insure protection and the free use of the canal."

Egypt was charged by the convention with insuring the free passage provisions. The treaty said this provision, however, should not interfere "with the measures . . . (the government) might find necessary to take for securing by their own forces the defense of Egypt and the maintenance of public order."

It is Egypt's present contention that free passage is in no way hampered by Egypt's taking over operation of the canal from the company originally formed by De Lesseps.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a woman in my thirties. When I came to this country about six years ago I was living with my aunt. But we didn't get along, for my aunt didn't treat me as a mature woman, and, as I hardly knew the language, she treated me like a greenhorn.

When I lived in the old country I was sure of myself, but during this stay with my aunt, she helped to create an inferiority complex in me.

I am married four years now, but have to force myself to do my housework and chores, and even have been terrified when I am required to go in town or attend to some business. I would like to do things but feel handicapped.

Now I plan to leave for a visit in the old country, hoping it will help me to get hold of myself. What else would you suggest to improve the situation?

G. P.

DEAR G. P.: It appears to me that you are emotionally sick with a mild depression that bore down on you about the time you came to this country. A depression is a form of melancholy and despondency in which one pines for the past and dreads the future.

Very likely your aunt's insensitive overbearing behavior, as your guide in the new environment, intensified a mood of loneliness, heartache and anxiety that you had brought with you—so that, in the first phase of settling here, you drifted into a state of chronic secret despondency, and gradually this malady became a habit.

No doubt your aunt's wounding behavior aggravated and reinforced the heartiness that drained your self-confidence, but it didn't do the whole job, I think.

To attain good spirits, a various approach to good health seems advisable. First, read Dr. E. M. Abrahamson and A. W. Pezet's book "Body, Mind and Sugar" (Henry Holt publishers), to explore the possibility that hidden "blood sugar starvation" may be a principal source of your apathy and gloom. If such is the case, the book outlines a remedial diet that works wonders when faithfully followed.

Second, some psychiatric help is indicated, to spark insight into the "thought pattern" of your prostrated self-confidence, so that you may see how to establish constructive attitudes. And also to afford your practice session in "being yourself" with another person, namely the specialist. By these means you may revitalize a spirit of outgoing spontaneous interest in life that will chase away the blues.

Third, look into the subject of God-ward living. Learn about God's embrace of humanity, and discover how to tune in, via prayer and Christian fellowship, on the "peace that surpasseth all understanding." A guide in this direction is Hannah Whitall Smith's classic, "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revell, publishers).

Consumer Battle for Dollars

Economists Hope Price Rise To Reach Peak in Autumn

EDITOR'S NOTE: The middle of 1956 has seen the sharpest price increases since the early months of the Korean War. Is the nation in for another round of inflation? Following is the first in a series of three articles dealing with the price bulge.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American consumer is losing the battle of the price bulge.

In fact, he has lost it already. Government economists concede that even if the intense bombardment of price increases lets up, the price line cannot be rolled back to last spring's level.

Administration officials, though surprised at the scope of this summer's markups, predict confidently there will be no roaring inflation.

They believe the consumer price index, now at an all-time high, will come to rest this autumn on a new and higher price plateau.

They disagree as to whether this will be followed by a creeping inflation or by a period of relative stability.

It now takes $1.02 to buy what $1 bought a year ago. Most of this dollar depreciation occurred in the period covered by the two latest index reports, those for June and July.

President Eisenhower has voiced "concern," as has Secretary of Commerce Weeks. The Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, says the price spurt refutes Republican claims that the Eisenhower administration has found the secret of economic growth without inflation.

The administration has moved in solidly behind the intensified efforts of the Federal Reserve board to hold the price and credit line. Last spring, when the board tightened up, some Cabinet members disagreed publicly.

The average factory worker is still better off than he was a year ago; wages up 2.9 per cent compared with the 2 per cent price rise.

Also, the per capita spendable income of Americans has climbed faster than the price level—not in recent months, but over the year. But only one earner in three is a factory worker, and many of breadwinners are not members of unions which see that wages keep abreast or ahead of living costs.

The administration has pledged to protect those millions who are left behind in any inflationary sprint—low wage workers to whom even "a little inflation" is a family tragedy, and the many who live on fixed incomes from pensions, annuities or trust funds.

So far the damage is not great. The inflation which accompanied and followed the Korean War reached its high in October 1953. The consumer price index reached 115.4, meaning that it cost a little more than $1.15 to buy what had cost $1 in the three years 1947-9.

Then the index sloped off slightly. It fluctuated within the range of only a point or two until this spring. In May it climbed back to the peak. In June it jumped 0.7 per cent to set a new record. In July it climbed that much again.

The price index now stands at 117, with a report on August due within the next few days.

Pending the report, the experts are divided as to whether consumer prices went up slightly or down slightly in August.

Much of the June-July increase was purely seasonal. Food prices always rise in the months preceding the harvests. This year there were late frosts and a cold, wet spring to send fresh fruit and vegetable prices zooming.

Food prices spurted, and food represents 30 per cent of the weight of the whole index, it being assumed that the grocery and meat bill represents that percentage of the total spending of the average city family.

But until this spring, food prices had been dropping year by year since 1952. This obscured the fact that other living costs, as a group, had been rising slowly. One

This year, the superseasonal rise in foods coincided with a quickening of the rise in other prices. Uptrends dominated the entire index, from housing and transportation to haircuts and medical care.

The delicious flavor difference in Folger's is

Mountain Grown Coffee!

You taste it in every steaming cup—the unusually rich, tangy flavor of nature's choicest coffee. For that's what Folger's is... a unique and individual blend of naturally more flavorful Mountain-Grown coffees!

Experts agree that these rare mountain coffees, grown in remote regions where there is an abundance of fertile volcanic soil, warm tropic rain, and year-round sunlight, have the most satisfying tang and flavor of any coffee known today.

And you will agree that the rewarding flavor and fragrance you discover in Folger's is the finest you have ever enjoyed. Distinctively rich. Unusually tangy. Unmistakably Folger's—the Mountain-Grown coffee!

So much richer in flavor that you are urged to use 1/4 less than with lesser flavored brands.

Wright-Knecht Wedding Vows Read Saturday

The wedding of Margaret Louise Wright to Harold J. Knecht was solemnized Saturday, September 8 in St. Colman's Church by Rev. Richard J. Connelly. The double ring ceremony took place at 9:30 a. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Wright of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Knecht of Williamsport are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The sculptured bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long lace sleeves. The full lace skirt billowed to ballerina length, with embroidered scallops outlining the hemline. It separated attractively in the back to reveal a ruffled net underskirt over which a graceful satin bow fell below the satin cummerbund. Her veil of pure silk imported illusion was caught to a pearl-trimmed scalloped half crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white-feathered carnations centered with a white, gold-throated orchid over a rosary. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls which was a gift from the bridegroom.

Misses Ruth Ann and Jane Wright served as attendants for their sister. They wore turquoise crystal-embellished length gowns and matching hats. They carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations and white baby mums.

Mr. Carroll Knecht was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Robert Knecht, the bridegroom's brother, and Mr. James Broderick of Jamestown.

Mrs. Wright, the bride's mother, was wearing a blue dress with bracelet length sleeves, and Mrs. Knecht wore a rose dress also with bracelet length sleeves. Both mothers wore corsages of white shasta chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop, for the immediate families.

The new Mrs. Knecht was wearing a blue knit dress and the orchid from her bouquet, when the couple left on a trip through the southern states.

Mothers' Circle Holds Meeting At Junk Home

Mrs. Dick Junk was hostess to twenty-nine members of Mothers' Circle at the first fall meeting after a summer recess.

The new president, Mrs. Richard R. Willis, Jr., presided over the meeting. She introduced new members, Mrs. Hugh Rea, Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, Mrs. Robert Boyd and Mrs. Mark Schaeper who were warmly welcomed.

The usual reports and those of standing committees were given and the evening was largely taken up with discussions on the many plans for the philanthropic work for the new year.

Plans were made for the October 22 meeting which will be in conjunction with Delta Kappa Gamma to be at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church when Dr. May Hill Arbutnot, a psychiatrist, will be the guest speaker and her topic will be "Broadening Children's Reading Interests".

The business session was adjourned and Mrs. Jane Coffman, program chairman introduced as the guest speaker, Judge Robert L. Brubaker who spoke on problems, with children in Juvenile Court, during which he spoke of homes, foster homes coming from broken homes. Telling the members that people generally are unaware of the magnitude of these problems, with unfortunate children, who lack home training and supervision. At the close of Judge Brubaker's talk a question and answer period brought out many important aspects of the work with children.

Later a social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Junk was assisted by Mrs. John Bailey, Jr., hostess chairman, Mrs. George Finley and Mrs. Paul Dougherty in the serving of tempting refreshments.

Mothers' Circle Holds Meeting At Junk Home

Mrs. Dick Junk was hostess to twenty-nine members of Mothers' Circle at the first fall meeting after a summer recess.

The new president, Mrs. Richard R. Willis Jr., presided over the meeting. She introduced new members. Mrs. Hugh Rea, Mrs. Edmund Woodmansee, Mrs. Robert Boyd and Mrs. Mark Schaeper who were warmly welcomed.

The usual reports and those of standing committees were given and the evening was largely taken up with discussions on the many plans for the philanthropic work for the new year.

Plans were made for the October 22 meeting which will be in conjunction with Delta Kappa Gamma to be at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church when Dr. May Hill Arbuthnot, a physician, will be the guest speaker and her topic will be "Broadening Children's Reading Interests".

The business session was adjourned and Mrs. Jane Coffman, program chairman introduced as the guest speaker, Judge Robert L. Brubaker who spoke on problems, with children in Juvenile Court, during which he spoke of homes, foster homes coming from broken homes. Telling the members that people generally are unaware of the magnitude of these problems, with unfortunate children, who lack home training and supervision. At the close of Judge Brubaker's talk a question and answer period brought out many important aspects of the work with children.

Later a social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Junk was assisted by Mrs. John Bailey, Jr., hostess chairman, Mrs. George Finley and Mrs. Paul Dougherty in the serving of tempting refreshments.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Rodney Shelton, with twelve members present.

The meeting was opened with the opening ritual in charge of the president, Mrs. John Richards and the usual reports which followed were approved as given.

The new programs for the year were distributed and a communication was read from the Cancer Society in regard to films that are available.

Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick Jr., was appointed as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and plans were made for the first fall pledge party, September 24.

The program chairman, Mrs. Eugene Alkire, introduced Mrs.

Robert Hackemeyer, who discussed the subject "Your Day Socially", which a group discussion on the topic "How can your breakfast table be made both attractive and cheerful?" which was most interesting.

She also discussed formal luncheons, teas and dinners and for each occasion she dealt with the correct use of linens, silver, flowers, candles, the number of courses served and menus adapted to each occasion.

She closed her most interesting talk with picture illustrations of table settings.

The meeting was closed according to the ritual and the hostess served light refreshments assisted by the social committee, Mrs. William Williams and Mrs. Joe Rush.

The next meeting October 1, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Alkire, will be an open meeting.

Washington C.H. Area Considered As Possible Site for Junior College

Ohio Valley Churches of Christ have asked the assistance of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce in finding a 50-acre site for a Christian Junior College which would have an estimated enrollment of 1,200 students.

While the school, which eventually would become a senior college, is now only in the preliminary planning stages, several Ohio communities have been under consideration, and Dover already has made tentative overtures to the churches' site committee.

The four-year school, while under sponsorship of the Ohio Valley group of Churches of Christ, would be non-denominational in enrollment and would be, according to present plans, supported by individual contributions and tuition fees. No general fund has been established by the sponsoring churches, pending consideration of offers by interested communities.

No actual construction is contemplated until at least four years after the land is acquired, according to information received by the C. of C. board which has referred the inquiry to the Fayette County Ministerial Assn. for study and possible recommendation.

AT A MEETING Monday night the board heard a report from Tom Murray, chairman of the proposed Industrial Development Corp. whose organization papers are being prepared. Murray announced a two-pronged drive for stockholders — a preliminary appeal this fall after the close of the Community Chest campaign and a general drive in the spring. The corporation will assist the Chamber in its industrial expansion program by locating and developing industrial sites on a profit basis.

The board also reviewed letters of appreciation from teachers and school administrators who participated in the recent Teacher Get Acquainted Day. It was suggested that this program be continued as long as there is interest in it.

The board also took steps to revise its brochure which details the city's advantages as an industrial and residential site. The illustrated folder is used widely in the Chamber's promotional work.

C. of C. Offers Directory Service To General Public

Want to know the address of your friend, Joe, in Cleveland? Or his telephone number?

The Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce probably can help you out. And, what's more, they'll be glad to give you a lift.

Up-to-date directories of more than 60 Ohio cities are on file at the C. of C. office, and the public is more than welcome to consult them at any time. In addition, the C. of C. has 14 Ohio telephone directories, hotel directories, airline timetables and scores of maps and brochures from points of scenic and historical interest throughout the nation.

General Manager William Stoughton or Mrs. Jean Smith, secretary, are in the office, 125 1/2 N. Fayette St., from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday.

It Was Chilly! And More To Come

It was blanket weather in Fayette County Tuesday morning as the mercury dropped to 43 under clear skies. Monday's maximum was a pleasant 71.

And the weatherman warns that it probably will be even colder Tuesday night with a possibility of scattered light frost in exposed areas of central Ohio. Wednesday should be warmer, but more fall-like weather is expected later in the week.

Last year at this time Fayette County was experiencing a moderate heat wave with daytime temperatures up to 93.

40 et 8 Sets Dates For Annual Events

Washington C. H. Voiture 888, 40 et 8, set dates for its annual installation services and its Christmas party at a regular meeting Monday night.

The group will elect officers at its Oct. 15 meeting, with installation rites scheduled at Snow Hill Country Club, Wilmington, Nov. 24. The Christmas party, also planned at Snow Hill, will be held Dec. 8.

Paul Souther, grand chemist of the 7th district, presided at Monday night's meeting in the absence of Francis Morgan, chef de gare of Voiture 888.

Several members of the local voiture are planning to attend the 40 et 8's Promenade Nationale (or national convention) in Indianapolis Sept. 28-30.

Almost 125,000 foreigners are now gainfully employed in Sweden, mostly in mining and metal industries.

Miami Star Hurt; Captains Elected

OXFORD (AP)—Bill Deibel, senior guard on the Miami University football team, lost the tip of the middle finger on his right hand Sunday in an accident on the campus. He may be lost to the Redskins for the first three games of the season.

Quarterback Tom Dimitroff of Barberton and end Bill Mallory of Hillsboro have been elected co-captains of the 1956 Miami team. Both are seniors.

"Ah-h-h...beer at its golden best!"

How come Hudepohl tastes so extra friendly and refreshing when you're extra thirsty? Is it Hudepohl's premium ingredients? Or the longer old-world aging? They're both important reasons. But even more important is our costlier step in brewing called Process 14-K. For it's this remarkable finishing process that adds the final brilliant touch to Hudepohl's famous flavor.

Look for this seal. It's your guarantee of beer at its golden best . . . of purity, brilliance and genuine satisfaction in every drop.

Ohio's Political Platforms Show Similarities, Contrast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican and Democratic platforms adopted at state conventions less than a week apart show sharp similarities and contrasts.

Each "points with pride" to claimed accomplishments; each views with alarm" the alleged misdeeds and aims of opponents.

Republicans required about half the 3,000-plus word used by Democrats to fashion planks intended to attract votes for party candidates in the Nov. 6 election.

Highway planks of equal size gave the Democrats something more definite on which to stand. They said cities should bear only 5 per cent of the cost of state highway building within municipalities regardless of the amount of federal aid.

That supported the position of Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, that the state and cities should split the 10 per cent remaining after 90 per cent federal participation for interstate expressway projects.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, after advocating earlier that the cities should pay the full 10 per cent, shifted his stand Friday to favor the 90-5-5 formula. Today he wrote the three-man highway construction council a personal request that it also retreat from its previous 90-10 stand and approve the 90-5-5 setup.

Republicans said a highway program initiated by the GOP-controlled Legislature lagged under the Lausche administration despite a 500 million dollar bond issue for roads approved by voters in 1953.

Party leaders explained that the plank was designed to leave the division of costs to the governor's discretion. Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, Republican gubernatorial nominee, came out for five per cent participation the following day.

Democrats also were more specific on the subject of civil rights in an effort to hold the increasingly important Negro vote in Ohio.

The party promised a fair employment practices law with "adequate penalties" to eliminate racial discrimination. And the party favored equal pay for equal work regardless of sex or age.

Republicans termed racial segregation contrary to the principles of representative government and cited equality advances under President Eisenhower's administration and equal opportunities under Ohio law.

Both parties came out for enforcement of U.S. Supreme Court decisions to eliminate racial segregation.

Democrats blamed Republicans for a drop in farm income and stressed the need for continued aid to agriculture, particularly the dairy industry.

Republicans promised steps to preserve the state's all-important water supply, expand research and marketing programs and complete drainage studies.

The Democratic platform included separate business and labor planks. It proposed a commission to study small business problems and reductions in premiums of workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance in that field.

The labor plank promised union protection, "a reasonable state minimum wage" and study of conciliation services and a labor relations board.

The GOP offered a labor, business and industry plank that credited unparalleled growth and expansion" of payrolls to a "wise and progressive Republican national administration."

Both parties promised renewed efforts to attract business to the state.

Republicans pledged faster compensation payments to injured workmen and improved rehabilitation, safety and accident prevention programs.

Democrats plugged for unemployment benefits tied to living costs. They also proposed a living cost yardstick for old age benefits without a statutory ceiling.

The party professed ability to make that and other changes without new taxes, a subject on which Republicans were silent.

Democrats called for more local general hospitals, treatment of alcoholics and curbs on illegal narcotics. And they urged expansion of their mental health program "until the needs are fully met."

Republicans, critical of state hospital building progress, said care of the mentally ill should focus on "treatment and cure rather than confinement and neglect."

Both parties promised to help solve the financial plight of local governments. Democrats for good measure added that urban redevelopment and slum clearance must be fostered.

Public education receive assurances from both parties with Democrats proposing more teacher training scholarships.

Republicans called for efficient use of natural resources; Democrats said they must be preserved. Both urged shore line protection and pollution control. Democrats advocated extension of public hunting and fishing areas and more small boat docking facilities.

Asserting that "politics and government are more than programs, promises, jobs, patronage and spoils," Republicans maintained that "those responsible for the administration of government must be dedicated to the proposition that no person be permitted to use the power of government, directly or indirectly, for personal advantage to the detriment of the best interests of the citizenry."

Democrats called for laws limiting campaign spending in view of what they termed "the unprecedented and harsh expenditure of funds by the state Republican organization."

Democrats also called for revision of Ohio's utility rate-making laws, more pay for public employees, support of a bonus for Korean War veterans, Civil Defense education, elimination of obscene literature, extension of library service and greater strip mine control.

Republicans promised action to curb juvenile delinquency and to pave the way for sub-districting in large urban areas.

Not Trigger Happy, Cops Live To Laugh

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Two rookie patrolmen were glad to learn that neither is trigger happy. The two happened to check on the same store at the same time, one going in the front door and one going in the back. Patrolman Austin Spaulding challenged the shadowy figure in front of him. It turned out to be fellow officer Eugene Forton. The two agreed, "We got the scare of our lives."

Fatal Fight Brings Grand Jury Action

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Franklin County grand jury Monday indicted William J. Lechner, 52, of Columbus, for first degree manslaughter in the first fight death of Kenneth Carl Miller, 30, also of Columbus.

Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine said witnesses reported Miller was fatally beaten by Lechner in a fight over cigarettes and sports that occurred in front of a bar here last Aug. 30.

Forest fires burned 307,000 acres in California in 1955. $4 million worth of physical property was destroyed.

Furillo Plays Hero as Brooks Thump Redlegs

King Carl's Home Run In 10th Gives Bums Win, Lead in League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carl Furillo, tagged for a quick swap if a good pitcher had been available in June, is King Carl again in Brooklyn today, spearheading the Dodgers' September drive for the National League pennant.

Game after game it's been one of Brooklyn's old pros (and there's a flock of 'em) getting the job done. But more often than not, it's been Furillo swinging the bat up but in the closing ones.

He was at it again Monday night, knocking in two runs with a two-out first-inning single and then wrapping up the Dodgers' fourth straight victory with a 10th-inning home run that beat Cincinnati 5-4 and hoisted the Brooks into one-game lead.

Milwaukee's second-place Braves, their pitching crumbling a little more every game, split a twilight pair with the New York Giants, winning 4-1 behind old reliable Warren Spahn after suffering their first defeat of the season in the Polo Grounds 7-2.

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

Furillo's heroics Monday night were prompted by back-to-back runs by Ed Bailey and Ray Jablonski with two out in the ninth inning that tied the score at 4-4. Bailey's 26th home run was a two-run poke, chasing relief ace Clem Labine—making his first start since July 24, 1955—after he had rolled along with a six-hitter, retiring 15 in a row before Wally Post singled ahead of Bailey's smack. Jabbo's shot, his 15th, was the first off relief Don Bessent in 53 1-3 innings since June 28.

Carl Erskine, reduced to bullpen status with Labine's promotion, won it in relief as Furillo tagged relief Brooks Lawrence with the defeat for a 19-10 record.

Duke Snider poled his 39th home run, breaking a tie for the league lead with Cincy rookie Frank Robinson, for a 3-1 edge against Hal Jeffcoat in the third inning.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli gave the Braves a third straight defeat in the first game, allowing six hits and not walking a man while hitting a two-run homer himself. It wasn't necessary for his 17th victory. The Giants had scored three against starter Gene Conley in the second inning. Willie Mays added his 34th home run for New York, while Bobby Thomson and Johnny Logan homered for Milwaukee.

Spahn, winning his 18th of the season, scattered nine hits and left 13 stranded in the nightcap.

Jack Dittmer hit his first homer and drove in two runs in the nightcap. Billy Bruton and Ed Mathews also homered for the Braves.

Kentucky Pacer Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Mr. Giff, fleet Kentucky pacer, survived a three-horse stretch fight last night to eke out victory in the best time of the meeting at Lebanon Raceway.

The Lebanon, Ky., pacer, with Chuck Willis at the reins, sparred with pace setters W. G. Watts and Ted Armstrong before completing a 2:07.4 mile circuit.

Mr. Giff, rated 8-1 at the start, collected his 13th win in 19 starts. Mama Shug and Daring Guy set a split in the two-dash feature trot for two-year-olds, each taking a second and a third.

Buckeyes Polish New Razzle-Dazzle

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State's football team will spend most of the remaining practice sessions polishing off the rough edges of this year's brand of razzle-dazzle. Most of this season's new plays have been taken on, said Coach Woody Hayes.

The Buckeyes Monday ended their intensive two-a-day pre-season practice sessions. From now on, Hayes said, practice will be confined to a single afternoon session each day until the Sept. 29 opener against Nebraska.

Lions Iron Out Friday Mistakes

Tuesday's Emphasis To Be on Defense

The Washington C. H. Blue Lions, victors over Linden McKinley in their liftdier last Friday night, took a close look at their mistakes Monday afternoon as Coach Fred Domenico and his assistants began grooming the squad for their first road contest at Xenia Central this weekend.

Movies of the Linden McKinley game received close scrutiny from the coaching staff over the weekend, and the emphasis was on line fundamentals at Monday evening's non-contact session.

Centers and guards worked out together, and tackles and ends were paired on a review of blocking assignments.

Individual players were drilled again in fundamentals.

Xenia, 19-7 winner over Dayton Wright in last Friday's opener, is a heavier team than the Lions and sports a fast, veteran backfield.

The Lions will concentrate on defense in Tuesday evening's workout.

Brown Sees No Title for This Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—After watching his Cleveland Browns lose five straight exhibition games, Coach Paul Brown said Monday he does not think they'll repeat as National Football League champions.

Later he lifted the gloom a bit, and reported, "I've never gone into a season without feeling that we could win and this one is no different. But there is no question but that we're in for an ordeal week after week."

Brown told a luncheon meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, that neither George Ratterman nor Babe Parilli seems ready to step into the shoes of retired quarterback Otto Graham.

He said Ratterman lacks Graham's mobility and Parilli lacks his poise.

Ratterman made his debut last Saturday as a radio-controlled quarterback—with Brown calling signals over a tiny radio receiver built in Ratterman's helmet.

In a speech to the Cleveland Touchdown Club, Ratterman said the helmet radio might be used to "indicate shooting line backers or pass receivers open."

"I want to make it clear, too," Ratterman said, "that jarring the helmet doesn't bother the set. I'd like that news to get around the league. I'm not in favor of losing any teeth while the opposition is trying to get me off the air."

Wiffy Smith Due To Play Her Boss

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Margaret (Wiffy) Smith, freckled muscle girl of international amateur golf, drew her Curtis Cup team captain, Mrs. Harriss F. Flipping of Ardmore, Pa., in today's second round of the Women's Amateur.

Wiffy, 19, has won 19 of 20 tournaments this year. She captured the British and French championships and turned in the best U.S. Curtis Cup performance.

The new Texan (recent emigrant to Orange, Tex., from St. Clair, Mich.) was a pre-tournament favorite. She sat out the first round with a bye.

Alston Fears Letdown Due To Hit Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Never have Brooklyn's 1956 pennant hopes been higher. Yet Walter Alston, the worrisome manager, expressed concern today over what he feared might be a "natural letdown."

"I'm worried about tomorrow," Alston remarked last night after his Dodgers had won a 10-inning, 5-4 decision from Cincinnati on Carl Furillo's homer to boost their first place margin over Milwaukee to one game. The Redlegs trail Brooklyn by four.

"We had two tough series," he explained, "one against Milwaukee and one against Cincinnati. Even the Chicago series was no picnic. There's usually a letdown after a tough series and I've got to guard against that."

Brooklyn plays St. Louis tonight in the first of a two-game series.

True, the Dodgers still have their work cut out for them, but they've apparently made believers out of Manager Birdie Tebbetts and his Redlegs. Tebbetts didn't actually concede the flag to Brooklyn but his words left no doubt it would take a near-miracle for his third-placers to overtake the high-flying Dodgers.

Tebbetts said he'll use Larry

Ohio Squirrel Take Reported as Poor

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio hunters bagged fewer squirrels on opening day this season than last year, the Division of Wildlife reported Monday. The season opened Saturday and continues through Oct. 15.

Division officials said interviews with some 2,200 hunters indicated a 24 per cent decline in the number of squirrels killed and a 31 per cent decline in the number of squirrels sighted.

The division reported that there appeared to be no concentration of squirrels in any one section of the state. The good areas were scattered throughout Ohio.

Jansen and Art Fowler in today's doubleheader, first of two with the Philadelphia Phillies.

"We gave Brooklyn a real battle," he said, "but it just wasn't enough. It's a tough team to beat. And it's getting tougher."

"We still have a chance to win," the personable Redleg pilot continued, "but we've got to have help. Somebody else has to win for us. I have no right to ask somebody else to win for us but we had a chance—two, in fact, and we missed both."

The 1956 Cincinnati Redlegs have been adept at winning one-run decisions and in winning their share of night games.

Rosen, Feller To Be Off Tribe Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg has counted third baseman Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Feller out of the Cleveland Indians' plans for next season.

At a luncheon speech Monday Greenberg said that he would offer Feller a non-playing job with the Tribe before this season ends. Rosen, Hank declared, might "be better off playing somewhere else" because he has "completely lost his confidence."

"Confidence is an important factor, and Rosen has reached the point where he can't play here anymore," Greenberg said.

Furillo Plays Hero as Brooks Thump Redlegs

King Carl's Home Run In 10th Gives Bums Win, Lead in League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carl Furillo, tagged for a quick swap if a good pitcher became available in June, is King Carl again in Brooklyn today, spearheading the Dodgers' September drive for the National League pennant.

Game after game it's been one of Brooklyn's old pros (and there's a flock of 'em) getting the job done. But more often than not, it's been Furillo swinging the bat—up or down in the close ones.

He was at it again Monday night, knocking in two runs with a two-out first-inning single and then wrapping up the Dodgers' fourth straight victory with a 10th-inning home run that beat Cincinnati 5-4 and hoisted the Brooks into a one-game lead.

Milwaukee's second-place Braves, their pitching crumbling a little more every game, split a two-night pair with the New York Giants, winning 4-1 behind old reliable Warren Spahn after suffering their first defeat of the season in the Polo Grounds 7-2.

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

Furillo's heroics Monday night were prompted by back-to-back runs by Ed Bailey and Ray Jablonski with two out in the ninth inning that tied the score at 4-4. Bailey's 26th home run was a two-run poke, chasing relief ace Clem Labine—making his first start since July 24, 1955—after he had rolled along with a six-hitter, retiring 15 in a row before Wally Post singled ahead of Bailey's smack. Jabbo's shot, his 15th, was the first off relief Don Bessent in 53 1-3 innings since June 28.

Carl Erskine, reduced to bullpen status with Labine's promotion, won it in relief as Furillo tagged reliever Brooks Lawrence with the defeat for a 19-10 record.

Duke Snider poked his 39th home run, breaking a tie for the league lead with Cincy rookie Frank Robinson, for a 3-1 edge against Hal Jeffcoat in the third inning.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli gave the Braves a third straight defeat in the first game, allowing six hits and not walking a man while hitting a two-run homer himself. It wasn't necessary for his 17th victory. The Giants had scored three against starter Gene Conley in the second inning. Willie Mays added his 34th home run for New York, while Bobby Thomson and Johnny Logan homered for Milwaukee.

Spahn, winning his 18th of the season, scattered nine hits and left 13 stranded in the nightcap.

Jack Dittmer hit his first homer and drove in two runs in the nightcap. Billy Bruton and Ed Mathews also homered for the Braves.

Kentucky Pacer Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Mr. Giff, fleet Kentucky pacer, survived a three-horse stretch fight last night to eke out victory in the best time of the meeting at Lebanon Raceway.

The Lebanon, Ky., pacer, with Chuck Willis at the reins, sparred with pace setters W. G. Watts and Ted Armstrong before completing a 2:07.4 mile circuit.

Mr. Giff, rated 8-1 at the start, collected his 13th win in 19 starts. Mama Shug and Daring Guy set a split in the two-dash feature trot for two-year-olds, each taking a second and a third.

Lions Iron Out Friday Mistakes

Tuesday's Emphasis To Be on Defense

The Washington C. H. Blue Lions, victors over Linden McKinley in their liftdiffier last Friday night, took a close look at their mistakes Monday afternoon as Coach Fred Domenico and his assistants began grooming the squad for their first road contest at Xenia Central this weekend.

Movies of the Linden McKinley game received close scrutiny from the coaching staff over the weekend, and the emphasis was on line fundamentals at Monday evening's non-contact session.

Centers and guards worked out together, and tackles and ends were paired on a review of blocking assignments.

Individual players were drilled again in fundamentals.

Xenia, 19-7 winner over Dayton Wright in last Friday's opener, is a heavier team than the Lions and sports a fast, veteran backfield.

The Lions will concentrate on defense in Tuesday evening's workout.

Brown Sees No Title for This Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—After watching his Cleveland Browns lose five straight exhibition games, Coach Paul Brown said Monday he does not think they'll repeat as National Football League champions.

Later he lifted the gloom a bit, and reported, "I've never gone in to a season without feeling that we could win and this one is no different. But there is no question but that we're in for an ordeal week after week."

Brown told a luncheon meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, that neither George Ratterman nor Babe Parilli seems ready to step into the shoes of retired quarterback Otto Graham.

He said Ratterman lacks Graham's mobility and Parilli lacks his poise. Ratterman made his debut last Saturday as a radio-controlled quarterback—with Brown calling signals over a tiny radio receiver built in Ratterman's helmet.

In a speech to the Cleveland Touchdown Club, Ratterman said the helmet radio might be used to "indicate shooting line backers or pass receivers open."

"I want to make it clear, too," Ratterman said, "that jarring the helmet doesn't bother the set. I'd like that news to get around the league. I'm not in favor of losing any teeth while the opposition is trying to get me off the air."

Wiffy Smith Due To Play Her Boss

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Margaret (Wiffy) Smith, freckled muscle girl of international amateur golf, drew her Curtis Cup team captain, Mrs. Harriss F. Flipping of Ardmore, Pa., in today's second round of the Women's Amateur.

Wiffy, 19, has won 19 of 20 tournaments this year. She captured the British and French championships and turned in the best U.S. Curtis Cup performance.

The new Texan (recent emigrant to Orange, Tex., from St. Clair, Mich.) was a pre-tournament favorite. She sat out the first round with a bye.

Alston Fears Letdown Due To Hit Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Never have Brooklyn's 1956 pennant hopes been higher. Yet Walter Alston, the worrisome manager, expressed concern today over what he feared might be a "natural letdown."

"I'm worried about tomorrow," Alston remarked last night after his Dodgers had won a 10-inning, 5-4 decision from Cincinnati on Carl Furillo's homer to boost their first place margin over Milwaukee to one game. The Redlegs trail Brooklyn by four.

"We had two tough series," he explained, "one against Milwaukee and one against Cincinnati. Even the Chicago series was no picnic. There's usually a letdown after a tough series and I've got to guard against that."

Brooklyn plays St. Louis tonight in the first of a two-game series.

True, the Dodgers still have their work cut out for them, but they've apparently made believers out of Manager Birdie Tebbetts and his Redlegs. Tebbetts didn't actually concede the flag to Brooklyn but his words left no doubt it would take a near-miracle for his third-placers to overtake the high-flying Dodgers.

Tebbetts said he'll use Larry

Ohio Squirrel Take Reported as Poor

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio hunters bagged fewer squirrels on opening day this season than last year, the Division of Wildlife reported Monday. The season opened Saturday and continues through Oct. 15.

Division officials said interviews with some 2,200 hunters indicated a 24 per cent decline in the number of squirrels killed and a 31 per cent decline in the number of squirrels sighted.

The division reported that there appeared to be no concentration of squirrels in any one section of the state. The good areas were scattered throughout Ohio.

Jansen and Art Fowler in today's doubleheader, first of two with the Philadelphia Phillies.

"We gave Brooklyn a real battle," he said, "but it just wasn't enough. It's a tough team to beat. And it's getting tougher."

"We still have a chance to win," the personable Redleg pilot continued, "but we've got to have help. Somebody else has to win it for us. I have no right to ask somebody else to win it for us but we had a chance—two, in fact, and we missed both."

The 1956 Cincinnati Redlegs have been adept at winning one-run decisions and in winning their share of night games.

Rosen, Feller To Be Off Tribe Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg has counted third baseman Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Feller out of the Cleveland Indians' plans for next season.

At a luncheon speech Monday Greenberg said that he would offer Feller a non-playing job with the Tribe before this season ends. Rosen, Hank declared, might "be better off playing somewhere else" because he has "completely lost his confidence."

"Confidence is an important factor, and Rosen has reached the point where he can't play here anymore," Greenberg said.

Rosen, who will be 32 next March and is in his eighth season with Cleveland, is batting only .269 this season.

Feller, nearing 38, made his first start in more than four months Saturday and pitched his only complete game this season, losing a seven-hitter to Boston 5-3. He has two other losses to show for 40 additional innings of work, including one start in April and another in May. Last night Rosen indicated he might retire from baseball.

"I've had a lot of injuries this summer," he said. "My neck and back have bothered me most of the time. Maybe I'm at that age when you become injury prone."

"At any rate, I plan to have a complete physical examination next month. I wanted to do this in as high class a manner as possible, so this whole thing is certainly embarrassing for me. When I make up my mind and arrive at a decision, there won't be any reconsidering."

"No matter how Hank feels,

British Gamble

On U. S. Ring Test And Win Handily

NEW YORK (AP)—A $3,600 gamble has paid off today for British Empire middleweight champion Pat McAteer and Manager Johnny Campbell.

The handsome, 24-year-old invader scored an impressive and popular unanimous decision over rugged Jerry Luedee in his American debut Monday night.

"It was well worth the risk," said Campbell after his protégé's solid victory. "We tried for 12 months to get the International Boxing Club to bring Pat over here. They weren't interested."

"So I decided I'd be like a salesman and display my goods. We paid our own way and invested $3,600 in getting Pat ready. Teddy Brenner (St. Nick's matchmaker) saw Pat in the gym and booked him. Now that Pat's a hit here we know there will be plenty of offers the next time."

Cleveland is my town. I have a family, friends and a home here, and I plan to stay. Perhaps I'm finished in baseball, but in some other things I'm just getting started here. I'm just sorry this thing had to come up this way."

Feller's reaction to Greenberg's offer of another job was that he would "have a talk with myself" before seeing Greenberg.

How to START a roof leak!

The man who tries to patch one roof leak is apt to start many others, because an old roof becomes weak all over, not in spots. If a roof needs patching, it needs re-roofing.

Re-roof with Flintkote Asphalt Shingles. All styles are top quality—surfaced with fireproof mineral granules rolled into a base of weather-proof asphalt. No periodic treatment is necessary.

Flintkote is one of the country's oldest, largest and best-known asphalt roofing manufacturers.

If in doubt about your roof, get in touch with us promptly. We'll gladly inspect it without obligation.

4-H Clubs Seek Junior Colleges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio 4-H Club members have called for a junior college program in the state.

Delegates at the 39th annual club congress Monday endorsed the program at a mock legislative session. The youthful legislators who filled the House of Representatives chamber in the statehouse passed a bill authorizing a commission to expedite creation of junior colleges.

About 900 delegates are attending the convention which opened Saturday at Ohio State University.

LEGAL NOTICE
 Notice is hereby given that the Trustees of the South Side Church of Christ of Washington, C. H., Ohio, have filed their petition in the Common Pleas Court of Fayette County, Ohio, in cause No. 22206 praying for authority to sell real estate belonging to said church for the best price obtainable, described as follows:

Situate in the State of Ohio, County of Fayette and City of Washington, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stone corner to N. Evans and in the line of The Homestead Building and Loan Association's Lands; thence North 1 degree and 50 minutes and 15 feet to a stake in the center of the Columbus Pike; thence South 35 degrees, 10 minutes West with the Course of said Pike 184 feet to a stake in said Pike, corner to said Homestead Building and Loan Association; thence East 100 feet to the beginning; containing 29 square poles, being in B. Temple's Survey No. 757, in Union Township, Fayette County, Ohio, and being the same premises conveyed to William Burnett by James F. Cook, Sheriff, by deed dated March 19th, 1881; Man's Wife of John Hamilton, Pages 173 and 174. (Said property being located at or near the point intersection of Olive Street and Columbus Avenue.)

The prayer of said petition is for the quieting of title of said real estate and for other equitable relief.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 10th day of October, 1956, or judgment will be taken against them.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
 is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

4-H Clubs Seek Junior Colleges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio 4-H Club members have called for a junior college program in the state.

Delegates at the 39th annual club congress Monday endorsed the program at a mock legislative session. The youthful legislators who filled the House of Representatives chamber in the statehouse passed a bill authorizing a commission to expedite creation of junior colleges.

About 900 delegates are attending the convention which opened Saturday at Ohio State University.

Fayette Cancer Unit Holds Annual Meeting

New officers were elected and committee reports were read at the annual meeting of the Fayette County Unit of the American Cancer Society, held Monday night in the TB room of the Pavey Bldg.

New officers are Mrs. Howard S. Harper, president; Mrs. James Perrill, president-elect; William Tooker, vice president; Mrs. Robert Sanderson Jr., secretary; Mrs. Elmer Reed, treasurer, and Dr. Robert Anderson, medical representative.

The slate of officers was presented by Mrs. William Junk, chairman of the nominating committee.

MRS. N. M. REIFF, retiring president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. William McArthur, retiring secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting. George Inskeep, treasurer, reported total campaign collection this year amounted to $5,264.68 of which 50 per cent or $2,632.34 remained in the county. The other 50 per cent goes to the state and national program for education and research. Expenses for service to local cancer patients and education within Fayette County to date is $1,905.94.

The Service Committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Pennington, reported that 2712 dressings were made for distribution to cancer patients. These cancer dressings are available without charge in the Health office in the Courthouse.

The Education Committee reported that eight organizations and one high school group saw educational films on cancer control and 2895 brochures on the six specific types of cancer were distributed from the doctors' offices and the hospital. Transportation was provided for eight cancer patients to and from the University Hospital and Memorial Hospital.

THE NEW president named the following standing committees for 1956-57:

Education: Mrs. N. M. Reiff, chairman; Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, co-chairman.

Service: Mrs. Paul Pennington, chairman; Mrs. Elmer Reed, co-chairman.

Publicity: William Tooker and Paul Rodenfels.

Mrs. Reiff thanked members for their cooperation during her tenure as president and asked their continuing support for Mrs. Harper, the new president.

Board members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Reiff, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. McArthur, Inskeep, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Perrill, Mrs. Junk, Tooker, Mrs. Mossbarger, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Harold Hazard, and Mrs. Reed, executive secretary.

Services were held at 10:30 a. m. Monday in the Gerstner Funeral Home for Mrs. Margaret J. Watson, 79, widow of William Watson, who died Friday.

The Rev. Jack Plummer, pastor of the Millwood Church of Christ, offered prayer, read the Scripture and a memoir. Members of the church choir sang "Abide With Me" and "Beyond the Sunset."

Pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Dan Kingery, Joe and Willard Bonham, William and Gerald Straley and Kenneth Spahr. Burial was in Hidy Cemetery.

Call Him 'Walter'

CHICAGO (AP)—A janitor named Walter suffered three broken ribs when he fell off a chair in the kitchen of his South Side home. He was taken to a hospital but was unable to give police his last name. They went to his home and copied it off the mail box. It is Anorysziewicz.

3 DWIs Fined In Court Here

Four Other Cases Also Disposed of

Three drivers, picked up during the weekend and charged with driving while intoxicated, faced Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court. They were:

John F. Swayne, 57, of 819 Sycamore St., fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and suspended from driving for a year. Ralph E. Cutlip, 35, of Wakefield, arrested on Route 35, south, by Sheriff Orland Hays at 7:45 p. m. Saturday, fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and suspended from driving for a year. Seven days of the jail sentence were suspended and the remaining three days may be served on weekends.

Phillip James Brannon, 40, of 317 Bereman St., picked up by the police drew $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and suspended from driving for a year. The court ordered credit be given on his jail sentence for the 12 hours he spent in jail at the time of his arrest. The other two days may be served on weekends. He was given permission for him to use his car to go to and from his work.

Other cases were: Herbert Smith Jr., 20, of 708 Rose Ave., for driving while under suspension, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail, to be served on weekends. He also was ordered to pay $22.70 remaining on an old fine.

Virgil Boggs, 19, of 813 John St., was brought into court on a bench warrant for non-payment of a $50 fine for "tampering with a motor vehicle of another" was ordered held until the fine and costs, amounting to $48.20, are paid.

John H. Bumgardner of Ross County, was fined $50 and costs for insufficient funds to cover a check for $31.12 given to the Willis Lumber Co. but the fine was suspended on condition that the check be settled immediately.

Kathryn Evans, 35, of 321 East Marke. St., was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail on an assault charge, but $25 of the fine and the jail sentence were suspended on condition that she "stay out of trouble." Mary Williamson, 320 East St., was the complaining witness.

Lady Driver Stories Face Aerial Twist

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Miss Ingar Eliasson, 35, a waitress who recently took off flying, set out to fly here from San Antonio, 150 miles away.

Six and one-half hours later she set her light plane down at West Port Airfield between Eagle Pass and Laredo—some 90 degrees off course and 150 miles from here. Asked if her compass went haywire she replied—"No, I did."

ENTER MILITARY SERVICE—These four young Washington C. H. men stand in front of the bus which took them to Fort Hayes, Columbus, for induction into the Army Tuesday. Three of them are volunteers. Left to right are Roger Bonham, Route 6; Frank Henry, 502 W. Elm St., the only draftee; Mike Williams, Route 4; and Paul Hughes, Route 5. They left at 9:17 A. M. Tuesday. (Record-Herald photo)

Students Learn a Lesson: You Can't Stop on a Dime!

Evidence that "you can't stop on a dime" was given to students of Washington C. H. High School Monday afternoon in a demonstration with a specially equipped car on Temple St.

Using a car equipped to fire paint bullets onto the street, one "bullet" was fired at the point where the signal to stop was flashed, another where the driver applied the brakes after the signal to stop was given to check driver reaction and the other where the car actually stopped.

Two students measured the distance between the paint spots on the street.

JIM MORRIS, a junior and experienced driver, took the first turn at the wheel with Wenzel Morris, safety engineer for Nationwide Insurance at his side.

At 20 miles an hour, it took him 11 feet to slam on the brakes after the stop signal flashed on the car's hood, and 20 feet, 5 inches to stop.

Thief of Airplane Rips Up Bean Patch

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A thief stole an airplane from a private landing strip and drove it on the ground about 4,000 feet through a soybean field Monday. He abandoned the plane when it struck a wire fence.

The St. Clair County sheriff's office said the plane was owned by the Flying Dutchman Club of Illinois, which rented the strip from Ben Meng, owner of the farm. Damage to the plane wasn't determined but damage to the soybean field was estimated at $500.

Foundation Of City Hall Being Raised

The foundation of the northwest corner of the City Hall is to be repaired and raised about an inch and a half before the new automatic door to the Fire Department building is installed.

City Manager James F. Parkinson explained that the foundation at that corner had been settling for some time, and this was blamed for the cracks in the walls on the front and north sides.

The cracks in the front wall are plainly visible from the outside, but those on the side are virtually up against the Fire Department building.

The foundation is being repaired and raised before the new door is put in place because, Parkinson pointed out, further settling or repairs afterward might throw the doors out of alignment.

The work is being done specialists, the K. and G. Construction Co. of Columbus.

FIRST, they are to dig a tunnel under the existing footers and carry the excavation down to solid ground. This is to be filled with concrete, reinforced with steel.

After the concrete has hardened, cement grout is to be forced under the new footer with a special hydraulic machine, exerting 30,000 pounds of pressure per square foot, to raise the foundation of the corner of the building.

The repairs, to cost $300, will be taken care of out of the regular maintenance appropriation.

No indication was given as to when the work on the City Hall or the installation of the Fire Department building adjoining it will be completed.

7 Traffic Violators Face Municipal Court

Three drivers cited to appear in Municipal Court here for traffic violations forfeited their bonds. They were:

Jeff Franklin Croker, 33, Collinsville, Ala., a truck driver charged with excessive noise, $20 bail;

Norris Highfield, 47, of 412 Van Deman Ave., picked up for driving 47 miles an hour on Highland Ave., $20 bail;

Melvin P. Webb, 20, of Route 5, clocked at 44 miles an hour on Highland Ave., $15 bail.

Two other drivers were fined for too much speed, one for reckless operation and one for going through a stop sign. Two cases were dismissed.

Gertrude M. Miller, 37, Greenfield, was fined $10 and costs for driving 52 miles an hour on Highland Ave.

Charles E. Cox, 20, of 332 East St., drew $5 and costs for failure to observe a stop sign.

A charge of permitting another to drive his car against Donald Ray Coe, 21, 1019 S. Hinde St., was dismissed.

A charge of failure to give a signal of intention to turn on Route 22, filed against Billy J. Briggs, by the state Highway Patrol Sept. 13, was dismissed.

Clifton D. Gordon, 40, Columbus, was fined $10 and costs for driving 52 miles an hour on Highland Ave.

James McCoppin, of Del Ray Beach, Fla., drew $10 and costs on a reckless charge filed by the state Highway Patrol.

The Order of the Purple Heart, medal for U. S. Servicemen wounded in action, was established Aug. 7, 1782.

Police Investigate 2 Theft Reports, One of Vandalism

Washington C. H. police are investigating reports of two thefts and one of vandalism that occurred over the weekend.

Mrs. George Naylor, 832 S. Main St., reported that her son's bicycle, a black Hercules of English design, had been taken from in front of her home.

Mrs. Freelan Van Meter told police her pocketbook, containing keys, about $20 and her driver's license, was taken while she was shopping Saturday.

Russell Schnell reported that a window had been broken in his service station, Circle Ave. and Court St., but that there was no evidence that the station had been entered.

Fayette Grangers To Elect Saturday

Fayette Grange will meet in the Grange Hall at 8 p. m. Saturday to elect officers for the coming year.

Master Howard Barney will preside over his last meeting of the year.

Refreshments will be served and everyone is asked to bring cookies.

Mrs. Minnie Smith is in charge of the host and hostess committee for the meeting. On the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke; Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Colli; Ray Colli; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott; Mr. and Mrs. William Shepard; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Warner.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Watson

Services were held at 10:30 a. m. Monday in the Gerstner Funeral Home for Mrs. Margaret J. Watson, 79, widow of William Watson, who died Friday.

The Rev. Jack Plummer, pastor of the Millwood Church of Christ, offered prayer, read the Scripture and a memoir. Members of the church choir sang "Abide With Me" and "Beyond the Sunset."

Pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Dan Kingery, Joe and Willard Bonham, William and Gerald Straley and Kenneth Spahr. Burial was in Hidy Cemetery.

Fayette Cancer Unit Holds Annual Meeting

New officers were elected and committee reports were read at the annual meeting of the Fayette County Unit of the American Cancer Society, held Monday night in the TB room of the Pavey Bldg.

New officers are Mrs. Howard S. Harper, president; Mrs. James Perrill, president-elect; William Tooker, vice president; Mrs. Robert Sanderson Jr., secretary; Mrs. Elmer Reed, treasurer, and Dr. Robert Anderson, medical representative.

The state of officers was presented by Mrs. William Junk, chairman of the nominating committee.

MRS. N. M. REIFF, retiring president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. William McArthur, retiring secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting. George Inskeep, treasurer, reported total campaign collection this year amounted to $5,264.68 of which 50 per cent or $2,632.34 remained in the county. The other 50 per cent goes to the state and national program for education and research. Expenses for service to local cancer patients and education within Fayette County to date is $1,905.94.

The Service Committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Pennington, reported that 2712 dressings were made for distribution to cancer patients. These cancer dressings are available without charge in the Health office in the Courthouse.

The Education Committee reported that eight organizations and one high school group saw educational films on cancer control and 2895 brochures on the six specific types of cancer were distributed from the doctors' offices and the hospital. Transportation was provided for eight cancer patients to and from the University Hospital and Memorial Hospital.

THE NEW president named the following standing committees for 1956-57:

Education: Mrs. N. M. Reiff, chairman; Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, co-chairman.

Service: Mrs. Paul Pennington, chairman; Mrs. Elmer Reed, co-chairman.

Publicity: William Tooker and Paul Rodenfels.

Mrs. Reiff thanked members for their cooperation during her tenure as president and asked their continuing support for Mrs. Harper, the new president.

Board members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Reiff, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Inskeep, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Perrill, Mrs. Junk, Tooker, Mrs. Mossbarger, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Harold Hazard, and Mrs. Reed, executive secretary.

Students Learn a Lesson: You Can't Stop on a Dime!

Evidence that "you can't stop on a dime" was given to students of Washington C. H. High School Monday afternoon in a demonstration with a specially equipped car on Temple St.

Using a car equipped to fire paint bullets onto the street, one "bullet" was fired at the point where the signal to stop was flashed, another where the driver applied the brakes after the signal to stop was given to check driver reaction and the other where the car actually stopped.

Two students measured the distance between the paint spots on the street.

JIM MORRIS, a junior and experienced driver, took the first turn at the wheel with Wenzel Morris, safety engineer for Stationwide Insurance at his side.

At 20 miles an hour, it took him 11 feet to slam on the brakes after the stop signal flashed on the car's hood, and 20 feet, 5 inches to stop the car — a total of 31 feet 5 inches.

At the same speed, Linda Rice, a senior, applied the brakes 11 feet from where the stop signal flashed and the car was stopped in 20 feet, 2 inches—a total of 31 feet, 2 inches to stop at 20 miles an hour.

Robert L. Neumann, high school band director, slammed on the brakes 16.8 feet after the signal flashed at 30 miles an hour and it took 44.6 feet to bring the car to a stop — a total of 61.12 feet to stop at 30 miles an hour.

HAROLD MILLER, another student, put the brakes on 22 feet, 5 inches from the point where the stop signal flashed at 40 miles an hour and 69 feet, 8 inches were required to get it stopped—a total of 92 feet, 7 inches at 40 miles an hour.

Morris, who carried on a running commentary on the demonstration over a loud speaker, said: "You see what a spot you'd be in if a child suddenly darted out in front of you, even when you're moving at only 20 miles an hour. Just forget that business about stopping on a dime. It can't be done."
